Vishinsky Rejects West's Disarmament Plan

Ridicules Proposal In U.N. Speech

Gives Blistering Answer To Peace Appeal by Acheson

PARIS, Nov. 8—(AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky today rejected the western disarmament program as "trifling" and "spurious."

The Soviet foreign minister ridiculed the British-French-American plan as something to be laughed at.

"I could hardly sleep all night last night," he said, "because I could not keep from laughing. Even from this rostrum I can't hold back my laughter."

Despite the advance publicity of this "sensational" peace plan, Vishinsky said, the western governments not only gave birth to a mouse but they gave "birth to a dead mouse."

Blistering Answer

In a blistering answer to this morning's peace appeal by U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, the Soviet foreign minister told the U.N. General Assembly that it was the United States and not the Communists who started the Korean war.

There was no indication of softness or conciliation in Vishinsky's tone as he went on to assail the United States as a country which has brought both the U. S. and most of the world to a state of wartime hysteria and economic chaos by its heavy armament expenditures.

He said the United States had forced other countries to line up with it by constant threats and by bandying about its atomic weapons.

In an earlier assembly address Acheson challenged Russia to end the Korean war and work sincerely for peace.

His speech formally introduced before the United Nations assembly the Western Power proposal for step-by-step disarmament and a count and limitation of atomic weapons under foolproof conditions.

Speaks Directly To Russians

Speaking directly to the Russians, Acheson said achievement of an armistice in Korea "could open the door to broader consultations of other aspects of the far eastern situation."

He then listed these other points where he said the Russians could demonstrate the will for peace:

1. Agreement for an impartial U. N. commission to investigate whether conditions in all the zones of Germany are suitable for holding elections. Acheson said support of this measure "presents those who claim to support the reunification of Germany with an opportunity to prove good faith."

2. Agreement for a peace treaty with Austria which would end occupation by Russia, the United States, Britain and France.

3. Withdrawal of Russian objections to the entrance of Italy into the United Nations.

4. Granting basic human rights in areas of the world which the Soviet Union controls.

"The Soviet Union has talked a great deal about peace," Acheson said. "But when it comes to achieving peace through deeds or to uniting for peace, they obstruct. They call for a new five-power peace pact but refuse to carry out our 60-power peace pact—the (U. N.) charter."

Acheson blamed the Russians

VICTORY CELEBRATION. Scrappy Rudolph Halley (foreground), television's vigorous nemesis of gangsters, celebrates with his political followers at his headquarters in New York after election returns showed him the winner in the race for president of the New York City council. In a startling upset of mighty Tammany Hall, Halley defeated the acting Democratic incumbent, Joseph T. Sharkey, by a 163,492-vote margin. Halley ran on an Independent-Fusion-Liberal ticket on his first try for public office.

Affects Mutton, Veal Also

Lamb Price Hike Seen in OPS Order

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 — (AP) — The government today approved new ceilings expected to bring higher prices in most butcher shops for lamb, mutton and veal.

The new regulations issued by the Office of Price Stabilization are effective next Tuesday. One sets dollars and cents ceilings for wholesale lamb, yearling lamb and mutton.

The second order authorizes retailers to figure new ceilings weekly to reflect changes in wholesale prices of lamb, mutton and veal. This order permits markets to pass on to the public any changes in prices up or down.

Citing recent policy statements cautioning against disclosure of information, some OPS officials yesterday declined to discuss with reporters certain forthcoming price regulations. The statements have been criticized by several congressmen as amounting to censorship. OPS has denied this.

Bars Officials From Talking

The second policy statement, now in effect, bars OPS officials from talking about agency "actions which have not received final approval." One top official, declining to be named, cited that to newsmen in declining to talk about future orders. Max R. Hall, OPS public information chief, insisted the statement "was not an instruction to employes not to talk to reporters."

Of the new veal price order, officials said the provision for retailers to figure new ceilings is expected to bring higher prices. They said wholesalers generally had raised prices during the general freeze period—last Dec. 19 through Jan. 25. Retailers mostly had not changed their prices to reflect increases. They now may do so.

On lamb, reporters were told, there may be a slight price boost in most areas with some slight reductions possible at some butcher counters. Officials explained that the lamb price structure has differed greatly by geographic areas since the general freeze. They said the effect of the new

Introduction Of New Model Autos Frozen

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—The government today imposed a virtual "freeze," effective Feb. 1, on the introduction of new models by the automobile industry and manufacturers of other major consumer durable goods.

The action came in the form of orders reserving machine tools almost completely for military and defense-supporting production.

This would bar retooling by civilian manufacturers of cars, washing machines, refrigerators and similar appliances.

The intent, NPA's announcement said, is to insure that the entire output of the machine tool industry is channelled into defense.

The action will not affect 1952 model automobiles which soon will reach show rooms.

KEY'S CONDITION IMPROVING

Miller Key of near Marion was reported to be "improving" today in City Hospital where he is receiving treatment for head injuries and deep abrasions on both legs suffered in an automobile-train crash Monday afternoon. His condition is described by hospital attendants as "fairly good." It has been determined he suffered no broken bones.

Civic Drama Festival Opens Here Tonight

First Play In Series Scheduled At Palace Theater

"Darkness at Noon," three-act play set in a Russian prison to be presented at 8 tonight at the Palace Theater, opens the Civic Drama Festival sponsored by the Marion Exchange Club.

The Drama Critics Award play, which has taken New York by storm, will be presented by a cast of professional actors from the Civic Drama Guild of New York City. Herbert Voland portrays the leading role of Rubashov in the play, written by Sidney Kingsley and based on a novel by Arthur Koester.

The action of the play fluctuates between the events actually taking place in the material world of a Russian prison and events visualized by Rubashov, as a

Truman Calls It Foolproof In Address

Urges Kremlin To Accept Proposal Of U.S., Britain, France

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—President Truman last night appealed to the Kremlin to accept what he called a "poolproof" western plan for worldwide disarmament.

Wholeheartedly endorsing a three-point plan which the United States, Britain and France are placing before the United Nations in Paris, the President declared:

"I urge the Kremlin to accept this proposal."

Secretary of State Acheson outlined the plan in a policy statement today before the General Assembly.

President Truman described it in a nationwide address as providing for:

1. An inventory of armies and armaments all over the world, including eventual disclosure of information about atomic weapons—the number of which is presently top secret in both America and Russia. This inventory would develop into a permanent international inspection system.

2. The negotiation of specific arrangements for reducing armed strength and determining the size and composition of forces which each nation should have. Ultimately atomic weapons would be prohibited.

3. Actually putting the reductions in effect "as soon as that can be done with full knowledge and fairness to all."

Have Been Made Before

Other proposals basically the same in most respects have been put forth—and turned down by Russia—before.

Perhaps the sharpest departure from previous disarmament plans which the United States has supported, State Department informants, said, is the decision to extend the weapons and troop census to include atomic bombs.

An atomic control plan, worked out in the U.N. three years ago and blocked by Russia for disclosure of information as controls became effective.

Mr. Truman said the U.N. plan fits into the new three-power proposal and explained that under this proposal "atomic weapons would be revealed at the appropriate stage in the process of disclosure."

He did not define the stage but indicated it would be late in the troop census after good faith had been shown by cooperation on less vital information.

"The key to this plan is the proposal to find out exactly and precisely what arms and armed forces each country has," the President said. "This is the first essential, on which all else depends. Unless this step is taken, no real progress can be made toward regulating and reducing armaments."

The arms census, Mr. Truman said, would proceed by stages "disclosing the least vital information first, and then proceeding to more sensitive areas." It would

Crawford Grand Jury Reconvenes

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 8—The Crawford County Grand Jury, which recessed Oct. 31 after returning nine indictments, five of them in connection with the jury's investigation at the Crawford County Home, reconvened today for a one-day session. They will recess again late today, probably until the last week in November, according to Leo Scanlon, county prosecutor.

Named in the indictments were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dinkel, former superintendent and matron of the home, County Commissioner Walter Sargel, and his brother, Arthur Sargel.

One MIG Downed; Chinese Stopped In Ground War

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, KOREA, Nov. 8—(AP) — American Sabre jets clashed three times today with a record number of MIG-15s on the anniversary of the first jet kill in the Korean war.

Far East Air Forces said one MIG was shot down and two were damaged. No American losses were reported.

The Reds sent 190 jets streaking into Korean skies—as many as have ever left their Manchurian bases in a single day. Thirty kept out of range of American guns. The first MIG was downed a year ago today.

The jet battles flared across northwest Korea as Communist ground troops punched at U. N. lines without getting anywhere. Red probes in the east and center were stopped dead. A hill in the west changed hands twice—the seventh and eighth times in two weeks.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8—(AP)—A quick rond trip ended in Milwaukee last night for three young men and their red-headed girl friend—13 hours after a precision planned bank holdup which netted them $93,569.

They exchanged banter but there was visible trembling as the four appeared before U. S. Commissioner Floyd Jenkins. He jailed

First "Mud-Flap" Traffic Arrests Made in Marion

The first two arrests in Marion of motorists accused of violating the new state mud-flap law were arrested today on E. Center St.

Edward Leroy Mason, 31, of Cincinnati was arrested at 2:27 a.m. charged with driving a trailer-truck having no mud-flaps on the back wheels.

Gayle Edwin Smith, 44, of Dayton was arrested at 12:01 a.m. on the same charge.

Both posted bond for $25 and are scheduled to appear in municipal court tomorrow.

Clarence Boganwright Dwelling Destroyed

Fire Leaves Marion Co. Family of 6 Homeless

A family of six, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Boganwright and four children, were homeless today after a flash fire leveled their home three miles south of Marion off Route 23 to the east on Seiter Rd. yesterday.

The fire, believed caused by sparks from a chimney, broke out at approximately 2 p.m. while all members of the family were away.

All their personal belongings were lost. Both Mr. Boganwright and the owner of the house, Henry Miller of near Marion, said they were without insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Boganwright were at work and their two daughters, Elsie, 14, and Iva May, 16, were attending Pleasant School at the time of the fire. A son, Lawrence, 19, saw the blaze from nearby Miller's Airport. A third daughter is married.

Salvage Effort Futile

He reported he ran to the house a quarter of a mile away, but was unable to save anything after trying to remove the television set.

"The wind fanned the flames and it went up in no time," he said. The house was heated by a coal stove.

Mr. Boganwright was at work at the John Deere Implement Co. in Delaware and Mrs. Boganwright at McBride's Restaurant on E. Center St. when summoned to the fire.

Neighbors said they called the fire department in Waldo, but received no response.

Mr. Miller said the house had been in his family for three generations. He estimated it was "about 100 years old." He was unable to give an estimate of the loss.

Neighbors stopped by to console the grief-stricken Mrs. Boganwright, assuring the family they were welcome to stay with them for the time being.

Red Cross Asks Help For Fire Victims

The Marion County Chapter of the American Red Cross today is appealing to the citizens of Marion and community to aid in providing desperately needed articles to help the family in reestablishing a home.

Immediate needs include a table, towels and other linens, pots and pans and other household utensils, bed clothing including pillows. A used living room suite also is greatly needed.

Federal Approval Assures Metal For Construction

Two major developments in Marion's public school operations took place last night.

They were:

Letting three contracts totaling $2,305,156 for construction of Marion's senior high school building.

Salary increases for all employes of the city school system. The employes, numbering approximately 250, will receive increases averaging about $400 per year. This was a follow-up of Tuesday's election when Marion voters approved an additional four-mill school levy for operating expenses.

These actions were taken last night at a special six-hour meeting of the City School Board with Superintendent of City Schools, Lester L. Dickey.

Contracts for the construction work were let to three bidders.

The Knowlton Construction Co. of Bellefontaine was awarded the general contract on a bid of $1,854,450.

Contract for the electrical work was awarded to the Wente Construction Co. of Hamilton on a bid of $129,305.

Heating and plumbing contracts were let to Wisser and Gamier Co. of Chillicothe on a bid of $321,401.

Knowlton was the only bidder for the general construction work.

Other bids received for the plumbing and heating were: E. W. Flie of Lima, $286,188; B. Kohll of Lima, $374,147; and National Company Inc., of Columbus, $371,060. The Sauer Company of Columbus entered a bid for the heating alone at $192,675. The Piping Construction Co. of Columbus entered a bid which was declared null since it was accompanied by too small a bid bond.

The Triple Service Co. of Marion entered the only other bid for the electrical contract. The local firm's bid was $134,475.

The school employe salaries were increased by the board as a direct result of voter approval of the four-mill levy.

Increases will be at the rate of $300 per year for the remainder of this year, and $400 per year next year. The total amount of the increases will be $93,000 per year when they are finally made.

Building Work Set To Start

Work on the high school building is scheduled to start immediately, Mr. Dickey said today. Actual excavation will begin about Dec. 1, and the school building should be ready for use during the 1953-1954 school year, he reported.

National Production Authority approval has been given the project. Through this, steel and other metal and materials now being allocated for national defense will be set aside for the construction work. NPA approval was granted today.

Mr. Dickey said Eighth District Congressman Jackson E. Betts of Findlay showed interest in the project and assisted in getting NPA approval of the vital materials.

The new building is to be on land north of Harding stadium, purchased several years ago by the school board. The land is bounded by Mandana Ave and Seminole Ave. south of Mount Vernon Ave. and east of Delaware Ave.

Plans For Building

The building is to contain 45 classrooms, a gymnasium and an assembly room. There are to be home economics rooms, art and music rooms, library, lunchroom, shops, and industrial arts rooms as well as regular classrooms.

Construction is expected to take from 18 to 24 months.

McLaughlin and Kile of Lima are architects for the building. They were represented by Frank Cupp of Lima at the board meeting last night.

The amount of the contracts let does not include incidental items such as landscaping, some equipment for the building, architects fees, and the driveway.

The estimated cost of these items should run about $450,000, Mr. Dickey said, bringing the total cost of the building to about $2,750,000.

Representatives of the low bidders attended the meeting at the invitation of the board.

Bids were received and opened by the board Oct. 30. Since that time the bids were tabulated and the meeting set for last night to let the contracts.

Salaries Like Other Cities

The salary increases for city school teachers and other employes bring the city school salaries into line with other cities of Marion's size.

Mr. Dickey said, however the salaries are still below the state recommended standards, but that Marion should have no trouble in bargaining for teachers.

The increases are arranged according to college credit and experience. Teachers salaries in Marion now range from $2,000 to $4,000 per year.

Armory Rented

Other action taken by the board at last night's meeting included renting the National Guard Armory on W. Church St. for basketball games by the North State Street Junior High School teams.

Representatives of the Cities Service Oil Co. attending the meeting and showed an interest in the Central Junior High School property on W. Center St. Board members took their offer for further consideration.

The text book, "Your Government" published by Harper Brothers was accepted as the civics text for the senior high school students.

Transfer Authorized

A petition was presented from two property owners on Marion County Rd. No. 138 asking that they be transferred from the city to the county school system. The transfer was approved. The children of the two families had reported considerable difficulty in getting to school in the city.

The board approved sending six representatives of the Marion schools to an Ohio school conference at Lakewood next Monday and Tuesday. The representatives are: Mr. Dickey, Cecil Gabler, Miss Kathryn Moore, Lawrence Daly, Miss Philomon Gregg, and Miss Marguerite Howser.

OK Work On Edison

NPA approval was also granted today for the $100,000 Edison Junior High School lunchroom. The general contract was awarded to the Knowlton Construction Co. on Sept. 26, but NPA approval was withheld at that time.

The Knowlton Construction Co. bid was $82,272. The equipping of the lunchroom will cost about $20,000.

Work is scheduled to begin soon. Mr. Dickey said no date has been set for the start of construction.

The new addition is to be at the southside of the building.

Sucker Bait

By Inez Robb

WASHINGTON

I HAVE been browsing through the "Guide To Subversive Organizations And Publications" prepared and released by the committee on Un-American activities, U. S. House of Representatives, (asking price, 25-cents) and published by Uncle Sam.

It is a pamphlet of 156-pages, crammed full of the names of subversive outfits and publications with some of the most high-sounding, patriotic monkers ever thought up to snare a trusting sucker.

Inez Robb

As a Grade-A trusting sucker, I think with a shiver of the persons who have recently been accused of communism or Communist affiliation because they joined a half dozen of these outfits with the beautiful, do-good names, and I murmur "There, but for the grace of God, go I."

The only reason I was never taken in by any of these outfits with the inspiring, high-flown names is not because I am not any brighter than the average citizen but because I am a confirmed, dedicated, dyed-in-the-wool non-joiner.

Yet how I ever resisted joining the "American League Against War And Fascism" is almost more than I can see. For my money, that is one of the finest, most tempting and all-inclusive do-good titles ever devised by the mind of man.

NO ONE IN his right mind wants war and no one in his right mind wants fascism. If ever there was a perfect title to lure the idealist, to suck in the visionary or attract just plain old John Q. Citizen, that's it.

As I say, the reason I escaped undoubtedly is because of a life-long aversion to joining anything. I can scarcely get along with myself, much less a mess of more-or-less strangers.

A further reason has to do with an experience that scared my psyche when I was a cub reporter. In my extreme youth, I was sent to cover a meeting of lady Republicans. Up to that point in my life, I had never witnessed violence in any form, so that the verbal fisticuffs and hair-pulling scared me stiff.

I reeled back from that atavistic gathering to my typewriter and took a solemn vow over the keyboard never, never, never to join anything, no matter what.

AS A MATTER of fact, I feel a deep debt of gratitude to those lady Republicans. Otherwise, I might be standing in the dock, accused of aiding and abetting communism, of which I have had a life-long dislike, merely because I was sucked into joining this or that organization by its inspired, emotional name.

What could be further down the alley of any housewife, struggling with the price of everything, that a group calling itself "City Action Committee Against The High Cost Of Living"? On the face of it, every housewife in America is 110 per cent for that. I wonder how many housewives joined with nary a suspicion it was a commie transmission.

I find listed among the subversive publications "Facts For Women". What could sound more innocent? Kinda like an extension of "What All Young Girls Should Know."

I am a little mature for "The Teen-Age Art Club" but I must just have escaped the "Conference In Constitutional Liberties In America". I'm hot for constitutional liberties. What American isn't?

I FIND ONE front here, however, that would never have attracted me: "Theodore Dreiser Work Shop". As a young reporter, I used to have to interview a good many ladies (at least, it seemed like a lot) who had been dear friends of Mr. Dreiser

They always wanted to tell all, and I found them a boresome lot—on a level with the girls who had danced with the Prince of Wales. I had to interview them, too. I don't know which group was more tiresome—probably a photo finish.

This "Guide To Subversive Organizations And Publications" is a scary publication, certainly listing hundreds of commie pitfalls and sucker traps for the gullible in the 'twenties, 'thirties and early 'forties.

It's enough to make a body wary of joining even himself for a walk around the block!

Auto Workers To Hear Green

Barkley Speaks To AFL Group

CINCINNATI, Nov. 8—(AP)—Representatives to the ninth annual convention of the AFL United Auto Workers were scheduled to hear an address today by William Green, head of the American Federation of Labor.

The 400 delegates of the 150,000-member union finally got to hear Vice President Alben W. Barkley yesterday. Barkley was originally slated to speak Tuesday, but was delayed when bad weather grounded his private airplane at Paducah, Ky.

The vice president declared yesterday:

"The United Nations was organized after World War II to preserve world peace. That is why we are in Korea today.

"Korea was attacked, so we had to defend her. Thomas Jefferson once said, 'No man can be transported from slavery to freedom on a bed of ease.' It is the duty of the American people to make whatever sacrifices are necessary to preserve the peace of the world."

The convention adopted a resolution favoring a national labor daily newspaper and recommending officers of the union to assist in establishing such a paper on a sound financial basis.

BORN IN UPPER SANDUSKY

UPPER SANDUSKY—A son was born Nov. 3 to Mr. and Mrs William Gillen of Forest, in the Wyandot Memorial Hospital.

Wyandot Farmers To Make Tour

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY— Wyandot County farmers will have an opportunity to see many different kinds of grass silage and silage storage units on a tour of several Wyandot County farms, S. C. Cashman, county agricultural agent, announced today.

The tour is divided into two parts, an eastern and a western tour. The tour for the western part of the county will begin at 9:30 a m on the Jack Dairy farm in Pitt Township Here the group will examine grass silage stored in a snowfence silo. Next stop is the Chatlain farm in Antrim township where Milton Chatlain has stored grass in a trench silo built according to specifications furnished by the agricultural extension office.

The third stop of the eastern tour takes the group to the G M Kiefer farm in Eden Township. Mr. Kiefer has corn silage stored in three different kinds of up-right silos.

The final stop in the morning will be made on the Kuenzli-Veith farm in Eden Township. Here the group will see corn silage stored in two different makes of up-right silos.

In the afternoon the tour will begin on the Binau farm where the group will see grass silage stored in a trench silo. The second stop of the western tour takes the group to to the Louis Gohl farm in Salem Township.

The final stop of the western tour is to be made at the Passett-Altvater farms, in Richland Township. There the group will see both grass and corn silage in a stack on top of the ground. Dr C. F. Rogers of the Ohio Agricultural Experimental Station, Wooster, Ohio a noted research authority on silages, will be present and will accompany the group on the tour.

Farmers and persons interested in this subject are invited to attend any part or all of the tour

City Hall Critic Brutally Beaten

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., Nov. 8—(AP)—Carl Loeb, who has made severe attacks on the Hollywood city administration in a mimeographed paper, "The Searchlight," was attacked and brutally beaten by several men in front of his home last night.

He was taken to a hospital suffering with shock and multiple bruises on his head, face, elbows and knees. Attendants said he may lose the sight of his left eye.

Loeb told police three men beat him with clubs, but the officers said blackjacks probably were used.

Pipes Peaceful

By Hal Boyle

AMONG the tidbits of pipe lore is an old theory that pipe smokers rarely are criminals.

This applies, naturally, to those who put tobacco in their pipes—not opium.

"A survey of police commissioners once found that none could recall the case of a pipe smoker being convicted of a felony," said Morris Levinson, head of America's largest pipe manufacturing firm.

Hal Boyle

"There is a reason so few pipe smokers turn to crime. The typical pipe smoker is more self-assured inwardly — more patient and contemplative than the average man."

A case in point: England, where 60 per cent of the men smoke pipes, has an extremely low crime rate.

"You might even say that pipe smoking is indicative of a mature mind," Levinson said, puffing contentedly. But he declined to say whether this had any bearing on the fact that only a small fraction of women in the United States smoke pipes.

"The sample there is too small to generalize about," he said. "Women may prefer cigarettes for—well, for their cosmetic effect."

THE PIPE INDUSTRY is comfortably heartened by the growth of television, feeling it will reverse the downward trend of pipe sales in recent years

"People will be sitting still longer in the same place," said Levinson. "There won't be so much hurry, hurry. And men turn to pipes when they have more leisure."

Another cheering bit of news for pipe smokers: Congress recently cut the tax on smoking tobacco from 18 cents a pound down to ten cents.

Pipes can be made from many substances—clay, pipestone, corncobs, hickory, cherry wood, or just plain lumber, briar and meerschaum.

The popularity of briar, the burl on the root of a shrub like heather that grows in Mediterranean countries, stems from about 1840 Legend says that a Frenchman, visiting a shrine to Napoleon on the island of Corsica, saw some natives carving one of the hand-grained burls. He had them fashion him a pipe—and that started a new pipe industry.

IT TAKES THE BURLS from 15 years to several centuries to mature They are then boiled in a special solution to remove the sap and seasoned from six months to two years. It takes 130 operations to create a fine hand-made pipe, including 18 separate polishings.

Meerschaum, sometimes known as "sea foam," is a coral-like substance made from the hard-picked shells of prehistoric shell animals embedded in the red clay of Asia Minor.

"It has to be whittled by hand," said Levinson, "We have only a few of these fine craftsmen left. When they die off, I doubt if there will be any more made in this country."

The fragile pipes are highly prized by connoisseurs. But they come high. A meerschaum with your profile carved on the bowl is priced today at $100.

"So far as we know meerschaum today is used only to make pipes," Levinson said, "but in the old days it was used to treat ulcers."

He says he will be glad to give some meerschaum chips free to any ulcer-addict who wants to chew on them, but he doesn't recommend the treatment himself.

Mt. Vernon Man On Program Of Sales Ad Club

"Make An Advertisement Out of Your Package" was the topic discussed by T. W. Koch, director of advertising and sales promotion at Shellmar Products Corp., Mt. Vernon, when he spoke before the Sales Ad Club Wednesday noon at Hotel Harding.

Mr. Koch illustrated his topic by showing samples of packages on the market and gave a history of their development.

New members of the club were introduced by Robert Lick, president. They are Harold Jacobs of Marion Metal Products and John J. Dugan of Arro Expansion Bolt Co.

Guests were Frank Kalinowski of Mt. Vernon, John Plank, Wesley Spangler, James McNoldy, William Kohler, Dudley Starr, Don Yoder, Dan Hale and Robert Mobley, all of Marion.

Jay Malsh Jr., program chairman, has scheduled a representative of the National Tag Co, Dayton, to speak at the next meeting, Dec. 5.

Economists estimate it takes from $25,000 to $30,000 to start a farm project big enough to support a family in most of the country's regions.

No Truth To Report, He Says

Truman Denies His Backing Offered Ike

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—President Truman said today there is no truth to a published report that he had offered to back Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a presidential candidate next year.

The New York Times in an article by its Washington correspondent, Arthur Krock, reported the offer was made during Eisenhower's visit here earlier this week. Krock said Eisenhower neither accepted nor specifically rejected it. Krock added the report likely would be denied.

"There's not a word of truth in it—that's the only comment I've got," Mr. Truman told reporters at the airport just before leaving for a Florida vacation. He added.

"If Walter Winchell or Walter Trohan had written that, there wouldn't be anything to it but I never thought Arthur Krock would do it."

Winchell is a columnist-commentator. Trohan is chief of the Chicago Tribune's Washington bureau and consistent critic of the Truman administration.

Krock's story said Mr. Truman made the offer at his private luncheon with Eisenhower at the Blair House last Monday.

Eisenhower Aides Deny Report

Officers at Eisenhower's headquarters in Paris also had described the Times report as "purely fictional."

Krock wrote that "categorical and even angry denials" were likely to result from his story but that the qualifications of his source were such as to merit publication.

Krock noted that the reported Truman offer of support "necessarily concerned only the Democratic nomination."

The offer, Krock said, repeated "a similar offer with respect to 1948" which Mr. Truman made to Eisenhower at the Potsdam conference in 1945.

The published account was denied early today by the White House. Asked for comment, presidential press secretary Joseph Short said the dispatch "is not true" Short declined to elaborate.

Implies Rejection of Offer

Krock's story said Eisenhower "strongly implied" rejection of the offer "by suggesting that great difficulties were presented by his fundamental disagreement with the administration on labor policies, proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act and other policies and programs in the domestic field that have been sponsored by Mr. Truman.

Taking into account several possible developments in both parties, Krock said that eventually Eisenhower "might just possibly be able to make a platform accommodation with the Democrats."

Krock wrote that he was assured yesterday by a person whom he believes to be "thoroughly reliable and informed" that "such was the exchange between the two . . . and that the matter was left in status."

Krock mentioned the possibilities that Eisenhower might be the Republican candidate for president, or might support Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the nomination.

The story said sponsorship by President Truman would be certain to win Eisenhower the Democratic nomination if he would accept.

Sought Truman Comment

The story might be followed by "categorical and even angry denials," Krock said. He reported that he tried without success to submit the account to Mr. Truman and ask for comment.

Krock said Eisenhower — now back in Europe — does not know whether President Truman will be the Democratic candidate next year if the general is not, "or whether the prior nomination of Gen. Eisenhower by the Republican convention would influence Mr. Truman's decision or how."

"And the President does not know," the story added, "what the general's ultimate decision will be. He knows only, as a result of the conversation, that some of his major acts and policies — which the Democratic convention traditionally would be expected to endorse—are opposed by Gen. Eisenhower."

Krock said that if Eisenhower could not agree with the Democratic platform it would be "most unlikely" that he would be offered the nomination or could accept it.

3 Killed In Ohio Air Crash

WILMINGTON, O., Nov. 8—(AP)—The charred wreckage of a Dayton-based military bomber lay strown over a Clinton County farm today after a crash that killed three Air Force personnel

The B-17 plowed into a pasture outside of Sabina. It exploded and burned after crashing, sending flaming pieces of the large four-engine craft sailing over several acres.

Dead were:

Maj. Patrick L. Kelly, 29, Midland, Tex.

Maj. Russell B. Thompson, 35, Baton Rouge, La.

M/Sgt. Samuel G. Kolb, Sumpter, S. C.

The craft was assigned to the all-weather flying division at Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton. All three victims were stationed there. It had taken off from the base just a half-hour before the crash on a one-hour flight.

Field officials said the B-17 possibly was trying to make an emergency landing when it cracked up.

New Disease Spreads To Korea Troops

TOKYO, Nov. 8 — (AP)—A mysterious new disease, apparently brought to the battle lines by Chinese Communist troops, has infected United Nations soldiers in Korea.

Brig. Gen. William E. Shamborn, Far East command surgeon, disclosed the presence of the disease today. He said it was new to western medicine and its exact nature has not been determined.

However, he said, it bore a striking resemblance to a malady called epidemic hemorrhagic fever, which the Japanese discovered in Manchuria in 1939.

It is also known as Congo fever and Kokka disease.

The number of allied soldiers infected was not disclosed.

Six weeks ago an anti-Communist North Korean told allied doctors the disease was present among troops of at least one Chinese army and had been contracted by some North Korean civilians.

The North Korean said victims first suffered from high fever, headaches, loss of appetite and yellowing of the skin. He said the disease spread rapidly, and often resulted in death within 24 hours.

Safe After Ship Disaster

SEATTLE, Nov. 8—(AP)—Six more survivors of the American freighter George Walton, abandoned after a fire and explosion in the North Pacific, were rescued early today.

Revised Coast Guard figures listed a total of 31 survivors and five dead of the 36 crewmen.

The coast guard cutter Wachusett radioed district headquarters here that six men were found near the scene of the disaster, some 300 miles off the Washington coast about 3 a. m. (6 a. m., EST.).

The rescue came after two nights and one day of searching.

Details were not reported.

A terse radio message said:

"Missing lifeboat found with six survivors. All are well and all taken aboard."

One man was killed when the grain-laden ship exploded and caught fire late Tuesday. Four others were lost during rescue attempts by merchant vessels that hurried to the scene.

DODGES DIVORCE

NORWALK, Conn.— (UP) — Just hours before his wife's divorce suit was scheduled in court, Thomas Goggins, Jr., was found hanging from a tree. His death was listed a suicide.

EMERGENCY FLIGHT. A nurse holds Elvira Difuntorium, 11 months old, after their arrival at San Francisco Airport following a flight from Manila. The tot swallowed nine pins some days ago. Since there wasn't a bronchoscope available in Manila, she was flown to the U.S. for an emergency operation.

Free Spending Campaign Seen By CIO's Kroll

Says Money Will Flow Like Water In 1952 Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—A CIO official predicted today that political money will be "flowing like water" in the 1952 campaigns in attempts to buy victory.

"You're going to see the most brazen attempt to buy public office that has ever been seen in this country," said Jack Kroll of Cincinnati, head of the CIO Political Action Committee, in a speech prepared for the National CIO convention.

Kroll said millions were spent in Ohio in 1950 for the election campaign between victorious Sen. Robert A. Taft, Republican, and Democrat Joe Ferguson.

But that will be "chicken feed compared to what will be spent in this country in 1952," Kroll said.

Kroll mentioned several recent disclosures involving politicians, and also CIO-opposed measures.

He asserted that the 1952 issues would be obscured by smokescreens and "phony devices that politicians use to divert attention."

But "what the hell is a mink coat compared to a tideland oil steal?" Kroll said, adding:

"What the hell is a deep freeze compared to a monopoly stranglehold on natural gas rates? And what's a bottle of perfume compared to a Capehart amendment in the price control bill?

"It's going to take more than a mink coat to stop us from talking about the price control law, and it's going to take more than a deep freeze to stop us from talking about the loopholes in the tax law.

"Mink coats come high—but they don't come that high."

Kroll made his report to the convention which was expected to continue through tomorrow.

Air Battle

ments were the first big jet fights in four days. Sabres were heavily outnumbered each time.

Sixty MIGs and 17 Sabres tangled in the morning. One Red was damaged. Sixty Reds and fourteen Sabres fought in the afternoon. One Red plane was downed, and one damaged. No losses were reported in a third battle, late in the day, between 27 sabres and 40 MIGs.

The kill was made by Maj. William Whisner of Shreveport, La., on his second flight of the day.

FEAF said that makes a total of 135 MIGs shot down in air combat since Lt. Russell Brown of Pasadena, Calif., flying an F-80 Shooting Star, made the first kill a year ago. Allied pilots claim 49 others probably destroyed and 257 damaged.

Allies Again Reject Chinese Peace Bids

MUNSAN, KOREA, Nov. 8—(AP)—Allied negotiators today "completely rejected" a Red buffer zone proposal because it "would have relieved the Communists from any pressure to reach agreement" on other Korean truce talks.

The flat turndown came after four hours and 35 minutes spent in finding out just what the Communist plan meant. A United Nations command communique said it was "a fruitless effort."

"The proposal is no longer under study for hidden meanings or gimmicks," said Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, spokesman for the United Nations Command (UNC.) "We have an agreed understanding on what it means and we reject it."

An official communique explained the Red compromise "would have provided in essence for an immediate and irrevocable demarcation line.

"This in turn would have relieved the Communists from any pressure to reach agreement on other agenda items, deemed essential by the UNC to a full-fledged military armistice."

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chairman of the U. N. armistice subcommittee, said, "we completely rejected the proposal."

DOG CRASHES AUTO

FORT WAYNE, Ind. —(UP)— Sandy, a husky great dane owned by Ed Bash, darted across a street and crashed into the side of a slow-moving convertible. The dog trotted on unhurt, leaving the auto with a heavily-dented left front door.

CRIME DOESN'T PAY

FALLS CITY, Neb.— (UP) — Three men who robbed a parking meter ended up with a deficit of $374.76. The three pleaded guilty to ripping out a parking meter and getting 24 cents. The judge fined them $125 dollars each.

DOUBLE HANDICAP. Ervin Williams, trying to get to a doctor for treatment of his fractured left ankle, leans on a crutch and shovels snow in a vain effort to get his car started during snowstorm at St. Louis. Williams, who injured the ankle in a fall Saturday finally gave up and had to postpone his scheduled trip to the doctor. He explained the ankle was too swollen Saturday to be in a cast.

Robbers

them under $50,000 bond each on identical charges of violating the federal bank robbery act.

"That's reasonable," one of them said.

Jenkins set next Wednesday as arraignment date for James Joseph Leather, 36, Chicago; Harold Dennis Hall, 19, who gave his last address as Los Angeles; Glenn Dale Marce, 21, who also said he was from Los Angeles, and Anne Slyder, Chicago.

There was nothing like that in their plans when the three men stepped out of a snowstorm into the northwestern branch of the First Wisconsin National Bank at 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

Armed

Two of them, armed with a rifle and shotgun, took up posts at the door while the third vaulted behind the cages and scooped money into a pillow case.

Soon one of the men at the door began counting loudly.

"Twenty-two, 21, 20 . . ."

When he reached seven, he shouted:

"Come on boys, let's get out of here."

They were gone into the snowstorm and speeding westward in a dark colored sedan. But six blocks away they switched cars. The value of that maneuver was lessened by a postman who saw them get into a light blue later model sedan.

Main Route

The four rode the main route to Chicago—highway 41—to the Wisconsin-Illinois border. Lake County, Ill., deputy sheriffs Clayton Tiffany and Thomas Cuker, alerted about the holdup, spotted the car. Their suspicions were heightened when one man kept turning to watch them.

The deputies halted the car and jumped out with guns ready. But they met no resistance. Miss Slyder was in front between two of the men while the third man was hidden under blankets in the back seat.

The FBI reported the loot was recovered, some already on the persons of the bandits but most of it with the bank tape still around the bundles of bills.

SHOOTING BARRED

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(UP)—Joe Carmoney, 36, learned that it's cheaper to cuss the city traffic lights than to shoot at them. Carmoney was fined $50 for shooting a rifle at a traffic signal, because "I don't like street lights."

NO SUGAR, ONE NIP

CHESTER, Pa. —(UP)— An eight-year-old Chester girl forgot to give her horse, Baby, his usual lump of sugar before taking him out for a canter. Baby nipped Catherine on the arm and she had to go to the hospital.

NEW MAYOR. Joseph S. Clark (above), won Philadelphia's mayoralty election to become the city's first Democratic mayor since 1880. He defeated Dr. Daniel A. Poling, a Baptist minister, by a majority of more than 100,000 votes.

Truman Leaves For Florida Vacation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—President Truman left today for Florida to spend a few weeks resting and working on three major messages he will submit to Congress in January.

He took off at 8 a.m. EST in his personal plane, "The Independence" for the four-hour flight to the Boca Chica airport, near the Key West navy base where he will stay. It is his tenth Florida vacation.

Two key men on the President's staff, Assistant John R. Steelman and Special Counsel Charles S. Murphy were booked for the flight. So were retired Rear Admiral Sidney W. Soeurs, Mr. Truman's principal consultant on intelligence matters. Murphy will coordinate work on the President's "state of the union" message to Congress.

The President also expects to get in some work on his budget and economic messages while in Key West.

The White House has not said how long the President will remain there. Estimates run as high as five or six weeks.

Vishinsky

for the tremendous burden of armaments weighing on the world and repeated President Truman's pledges that a free world would make every effort to reduce it.

As Vishinsky strode to the podium he was greeted by loud applause from delegates and the public gallery. Secretary Acheson listened intently from his third row seat in the Palais de Chaillot auditorium.

"The Soviet delegation now, as at the previous session, feels duty bound to help the assembly remove the hurdles in the path of peace," Vishinsky began.

"This requires immediate action on the part of the United Nations."

Then he charged that peace deterioriated during the past year as "the direct outcome of the aggressive policies of the Atlantic bloc."

He accused the United States of driving other nations to rearmament by pressure so that U. S. could maintain its economy.

Vishinsky declared inflation was running rampant in the United States, lowering the standard of living of the people.

He said the West's policy of cutting off trade with "the U. S. S. R. and the countries of the people's democracy" had caused great harm to the economies of the western world. He said this policy, plus the costs of rearmament, was depleting the economies of western Europe.

Quotes Truman

Vishinsky quoted President Truman as admitting that "standards of living could not be kept up unless there were a diminution of arms expenditures."

The Soviet foreign minister spoke without a prepared text in what diplomats regarded as both his direct reply to Acheson and an outline of Russian foreign policy.

He also quoted from an article by British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and the King's speech opening Parliament Tuesday on the bad effects of rearmament on Britain.

"Today Dean Acheson made an attempt to shift the blame for the war in Korea from the United States of America to the shoulders of others," he said.

"We shall again marshal our evidence" to prove this untrue during this assembly, Vishinsky said in vigorous tones.

"There is no doubt that peace negotiations in Korea could reach a successful conclusion if the American government would give a simple order to Gen. Ridgway not to hamper negotiations," Vishinsky said.

Eden was slouched back in his chair, but Acheson leaned forward tensely as Vishinsky charged that U. S. was leading the world to ruin through a mad armaments race.

Acheson Cites Oatis Case

PARIS, Nov. 8 —(AP)— William N. Oatis, the Associated Press correspondent jailed by Communist Czechoslovakia on charges of spying, was cited today to the 60-nation United Nations assembly by Secretary of State Dean Acheson as an example of the victims of modern tyranny.

Early in his policy statement on the first day of the U. N. debates, Acheson declared:

"It was a matter of proper concern to the entire world recently," said Acheson, "when Foreign Correspondent William Oatis, honestly seeking to report news in Czechoslovakia, was thrown into prison without a fair trial and on the flimsiest of charges."

"This man is much more than an individual victim of tyranny," Acheson declared. "He is a reminder to the world of how free journalism is deliberately throttled by totalitarian regimes."

Oatis was sentenced to 10 years in prison.

And So Ava And Frankie Were Married

Sinatra Threatens Photographer With Punch in Nose

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8—(AP)—Frank Sinatra and Ava Gardner stole away to an undisclosed honeymoon retreat today after a mystery-shrouded wedding at an exclusive home in West Germantown.

While the couple sipped champagne and feasted on turkey last night. A score of newsmen and photographers tramped the wet pavement outside the home hoping to talk to the bride and groom or to take pictures of them.

But the newlyweds would have none of that. They sneaked in through the back door and three and a half hours later summoned a half-dozen policemen in red cars and a patrol wagon to guard an escape route.

The only information on the wedding itself came from a press agent for Universal Studios and from Emmanuel (Mannie) Sacks, vice president of the Radio Corporation of America, who attended the ceremony at the home of Sacks' brother Ernest.

Wild Chase

Despite all the secrecy, there was considerable furor about the affair. Frankie threatened to punch a photographer. And there was a wild auto chase in an effort to throw newsmen off the trail.

Neighborhood residents, many of them girls in bobby socks, joined the newsmen in their vain vigil, pleading with the vigilant policemen for "just one peek" at the couple.

The 10-minute ceremony last night began at 6:45 with Judge Joseph Sloane officiating. Mannie Sacks gave away the bride. Band Leader Axel Stordahl and his wife, June Hutton, were best man and matron of honor.

Others in the party were Dick Jones, a friend of Sinatra's, who played the wedding march on the piano; Sinatra's mother and father, from Hoboken, N. J.; Ava's sister, Beatrice; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sacks, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Levy. Levy is the director of radio station WCAU, Philadelphia CBS affiliate.

It was the son of Levy's brother, Leon, who engineered the chase. Young Levy hurried from his father's house accompanied by a man and woman who resembled Frankie and Ava. They sped away in a car. Newsmen followed.

Unable to throw the newsmen off the trail, the decoys returned to the house and they admitted they were the butler and the downstairs maid.

Shows Temper

Sinatra's show of temper came about this way:

He and his bride had decided to have a commercial photographer take wedding pictures and pass out prints to newspapers and wire services.

A photographer persuaded a servant to deliver a note to Sinatra, suggesting a little more cooperation with the press would be appreciated.

A moment later the crooner stormed onto the porch.

"Okay!" he snapped. "Who did it? Which one? You're not going to get any pictures. You'll get shots from the commercial photographer when he gets around to it."

"I'm going to shoot," said the note sender.

"I'll bet you 500 bucks you don't," Sinatra replied. "And if you do, I'll knock you flat."

With that, the bridegroom huffed back into the house, slamming the door behind him.

The threatened photographer did not get his picture.

Joint Chiefs Agree on Need

We Must Increase Our Air Power, Bradley Says

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 — (AP)— Gen. Omar Bradley, in a major address on strategy revision to fit atomic era warfare, said today the Joint Chiefs of Staff have agreed "we must greatly increase our combat air power."

The increase, the Joint Chiefs' chairman said, must be not only in the strategic and tactical strength of the Air Force, but provide "considerable increase in Navy and Marine air strength." He said there must be additional forces for all the services—ground, air and sea.

Of nuclear weapons, Bradley said "the airplane continues to be the best method of projecting the power of the atom to the battlefield, and to the heart of any large land-mass nation." At another point, he spoke of "atom bombs of all sizes." Taken together, the two statements suggested that atomic artillery and guided missiles still remains definitely in the experimental and development stage.

Bradley, a foot soldier by training and career until he became chairman of the Army-Navy-Air Joint Chiefs group, made his strongest case for air power in an address prepared for the American Petroleum Institute. That address was prepared against a background of these events:

1. The address by President Truman last night in which he said the new U.S.-British-French disarmament proposal and the West's intense arms buildup "both have the same aim—the aim of security and peace. If we can't get security and peace one way, we must get it the other."

2. Preparation in Washington of preliminary estimates on forces for which the budget of 1953 should provide. Generally, they will include an Air Force raised from the present 87-wing strength to about 140 and lifting the overall military personnel strength of the armed forces from the 3.5 million goal to about 3.8 million. (Bradley did not use specific figures in his prepared address).

3. A recently concluded series of atomic tests in Nevada which included new small A-bombs for tactical use and the deployment of troops as part of the atomic battlefield studies.

4. Intensification of the European defense effort, urged by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower in his Washington conferences earlier this week.

Bradley disclosed that the Joint Chiefs believed the air buildup must be started now.

Cold Weather Chills Nation; Storm Passes

By The Associated Press

Cold weather chilled the nation's snow-struck mid-section today and a wind and rain storm which hit the mid-Atlantic states has moved out to sea.

The east coast, buffeted by gale force winds, heavy rain and sleet, saw the storm shift from the land to Atlantic waters off New England. The storm at its height swamped an area stretching from North Carolina to Maryland.

As the storm moved seaward, special warnings were posted for shipping.

There was some snow and showers in the New England area.

This was the same storm which had earlier in the week given the Midwest a snowy deluge, snarling traffic in metropolitan areas and taking a heavy toll on icy highways.

Northern Ohio Hit By Kid Winter

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8—(AP)—Young Kid Winter hit northern Ohio today with one of weather's sneakiest blows—icy streets and roads.

Following up an early debut, winter mixed snow flurries with a bit of sleet and freezing temperatures and slicked up the pavements, but good.

The state highway patrol warned that slippery pavements prevailed throughout most of the top of the state, and warned motorists to stay home, if possible.

The weatherman says its to be more snow flurries today, warmer this afternoon, and then continued cold.

MOM HEARS FIRST

NORTH ADAMS, Mass.—(UP) Mrs. Ann G. Whipple telephoned her wounded soldier-son in an Army hospital in Japan to tell him he had been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroism in Korea. Sgt. Raymond G. Whipple hadn't yet heard he had won tthe medal.

IT'S SMALL WORLD

YORK, Neb.— (UP)— It's a small world and no one knows it better than James Timm. Timm, who escaped from the state reformatory, made the mistake of bumping into a part-time reformatory guard on vacation here.

Salmon Can Be More Than Meat Substitute

IF MENU planning strikes a sour note in your budget when it comes to meat, you'll find a tempting substitute like this salmon dish is just the item to restore harmony to your household. It's certain to be in tune with appetites and will have guests singing your praises for a long time.

SALMON EGG FOO YOUNG

2 T finely chopped green pepper.
2 T finely chopped celery
¼ cup finely chopped onion.
1 T butter
6 eggs
¼ cup water
6 T nonfat dry milk
¼ t salt
1 cup canned salmon, finely flaked. (or any other cooked fish)
Butter

Saute green pepper, celery and onion in butter until tender but crisp. Beat eggs slightly. Stir in water. Sprinkle non-fat dry milk and salt over eggs; beat with rotary beater until just blended. Add green pepper, celery, onion and salmon. Heat small amount of butter in small frying pan. Pour ⅛ cup of egg and fish mixture into pan. Cook over medium heat, until golden brown; turn and brown other side. Repeat, making six cakes. Fold each cake in half. Serve hot with hot fluffy rice, mustard and soy sauce.

Ohio State Screen Rule Modified

Faculty Members May Invite Speakers Without Clearance

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8—(AP)—Ohio State University yesterday loosened the reins a trifle on its disputed speaker screening rule.

The rule, adopted three months ago by the university board of trustees, requires all invitations to prospective speakers on campus to be submitted to the president's office for clearance.

President Howard L. Bevis yesterday issued a statement of interpretations, exempting three groups from the rule. Points in the statement:

1. Faculty members now may invite outside speakers to their classrooms without first clearing them with the president's office. It's left to the faculty member's "professional judgment and responsibility" who to invite.

2. Heads of religious foundations recognized by the university may speak on campus at any time without prior clearance.

3. Off-campus groups, such as professional, scientific, or religious organizations recognized by the university, may hold meetings on campus without submitted names of their speakers for clearance.

Bevis said he acted "in accordance with the general administrative discretion vested in him by the board of trustees which made the rule.

The speaker-screening rule, which textually requires invitations to all prospective speakers on campus to be submitted to the president's office first, has drawn Ohio State smack dab into a far-reaching controversy over academic freedom and freedom of speech. Newspapers, religious leaders, educational organizations and the American Legion have taken up cudgels for and against it.

The rule's objective was to deny university facilities to "known Communists or members of other groups who seek to undermine basic liberties in America."

Only one speaker is known to have been barred from the campus under the rule. He was Dr. Cecil Hinshaw, a Quaker pacifist.

Last Monday Hinshaw called upon Dr. Bevis to state publicly why he was banned. Hinshaw said the president's silence gave the impression he—Hinshaw—is disloyal.

Bevis has said he will not make public the reason for banning any speaker.

TOWNSEND COUNCIL MEETS

Nine Townsend Club members from Marion attended a recent District Council meeting of the organization in Findlay, Mrs. Joseph M. Gonzalez of near Marion was the main speaker. Announcement was made of the State Convention of Townsend Plan, Inc., to be held at the Southern Hotel in Columbus Nov. 10 and 11. Speakers for the program Sunday, November 11, are Jacob Clayman of the Ohio CIO Council in Columbus, Richard Gosser of CIO Headquarters in Toledo, Mayor James Rhodes of Columbus, Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the organization, and H. Truman Gordon of the Townsend Legislative Bureau in Washington, D. C.

One Accident, One Arrest In Traffic Report

One accident and one arrest yesterday were reported by the state highway patrol.

Walter Hord, 33, of 765 Davids St., lost control of his car and struck a farm fence and culvert as he was traveling north on Route 23, three miles south of Marion, at 7:05 p.m. The car was considerably damaged. Hord was not injured.

Leonard Norris, 37, of Lakewood was charged with passing at the crest of a hill on Route 42 at 7:30 p.m. He pleaded guilty before Mayor R. R. Bennington of Mt. Gilead and was fined $10 and costs.

Find X-Rays From Sun Aids Radio

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 8—(AP)—Discovery of X-rays from the sun was reported today.

These rays are beneficial. They assist radio broadcasting. They are so mild your shirt would be a good protective shield against them.

The discovery is a surprise. The sun was not supposed to be broadcasting X-rays.

The rays were reported to the U. S. Air Force symposium on physics and medicine of the upper atmosphere. The rays were found by detectors in V-2 and other rockets fired at White Sands, New Mexico. They were found by means of photographic film, geiger counters and scintillation counters.

Absorbed by Air

These X-rays are many times less penetrating than those the dentist uses to photograph the roots of your teeth. They do not come down in the atmosphere much lower than 50 miles overhead. The air absorbs them.

This absorption explains their role in helping radio broadcasting. They electrify (ionize) a layer of atmosphere that reflects radio broadcast signals.

Scientists have been puzzled about the origin and action of this layer. It disappears at sunset. Higher layers then take over the radio broadcasting reflection. These higher layers are caused by ultra-violet light.

But the cause of the low layer was not known until the discovery of the sun's X-rays. This explains why the layer disappears at sunset. The X-rays travel only in the direct sunshine.

OPS Order

order will be to stabilize and even out ceilings.

The new wholesale ceilings on lamb and mutton are based on a price of $58 for 100 pounds for prime and choice carcas lamb sold by packers at Denver, Colo., $59.80 in Chicago and Los Angeles, $61.20 in New York and $62.80 in Miami. Wholesalers of lamb and mutton will add $2.50 per 100 pounds to the packer price, plus freight costs.

In recalculating ceilings weekly to reflect changes in their wholesale costs of lamb, mutton and veal, retailers will take their general freeze ceilings for any cut and increase or decrease the price to consumers by the percentage amount of change in his cost.

Veal prices are the only ones not now covered by dollars and cents ceilings at wholesale. These will remain at general freeze levels, until an order is issued shortly spelling out prices. Veal accounts for about 7 per cent of the nation's meat; lamb and mutton about 4 per cent.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(UP)—Texas Pacific Land Trust spurted 2¾ points to 155 to feature an otherwise lower stock market at a moderately active opening today.

Amerada, another of the volatile oils, fell 3 points to 147. Texas Gulf Sulphur dropped 1¼ to 101. Monsanto Chemical had a similar loss to 86¼. U.S. Rubber was down a point to 71½ in its section.

Elsewhere the net changes held to fractions.

been nominated except that the city bosses and their labor allies talked an ill president into reversing himself and agreeing upon Truman. Byrnes was appointed secretary of state because it was doubtful, in view of what had happened, whether Byrnes' Democratic friends in the Senate would have approved anyone else.

IN THE RECKONING, the Democratic administrations all these years owe much, much more to Byrnes than Byrnes owes to them. It is Byrnes' state that has honored him, and now as governor he is seeking to protect the rights and interests of that state and the nation.

The Humphrey attack on Byrd attempts to read the Virginia senator out of the Democratic party. The answer to this can be found by a comparison of Byrd's long party and national service with that of Humphrey.

These attacks show not only the low level of the fighting that will characterize the counterattack on the South, but the type of people who claim to represent the national Democratic party.

CIO Hopes BRT Will Join Ranks

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—The CIO today threw out the welcome mat to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, (BRT) largest of the unions in the operating branches of the rail industry.

W. P. Kennedy, head of the BRT, was a guest speaker for the national CIO convention. And Allan S. Haywood, CIO director of organization, said efforts were being made to induce the trainmen to break the long tradition among rail unions and join the CIO.

The trainmen now are independent. Other rail unions of long standing either are independent or are in the American Federation of Labor.

It cost $715 per mile to maintain Nebraska's 5,000 miles of graveled highways in 1950.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

You've Got To Start Somewhere

I have harped at various times about the wonderful job opportunities television offers to people of low ambition and small talents—the girl who hands out the money on "Break The Bank", the girl who helps the man into a barrel on "Truth Or Consequences"—but there are other jobs which, while small, require special gifts and sometimes no mean ability.

Take the guy on the "Hit Parade," for example, who loans a shoulder to Dorothy Collins to nestle in while she sings "Sin" ("Is it a sin to love you so?") He not only has to stand there, supporting about a third of her poundage; he has also to register some sort of response to this question. Is it a sin? Or isn't it? And what's he going to do about it? This is a tough bit of emoting when you consider the poor guy didn't have a line of dialogue and wasn't even permitted a gesture and the actor, I thought, acquitted himself very creditably. Small role, of course, but a man has to start somewhere.

You youngsters who want to break into television ought to look into the possibilities of being sung at. Lots of people are being sung at on television and in some cases its harder than to do the actual singing. The other night Miss Collins again was lamenting — at the top of her lungs —why couldn't she melt his cold, cold heart at another actor. He just looked her up and down disdainfully, rolled his sleeves down lit a cigaret, and strolled away clearly unmelted. It's a somewhat larger role than the one I spoke of before, more expressively and incisively written and the actor made the most of it. He'll go far. If he keeps up this pace, he may even grow up to be sung at by Dinah Shore.

One of the most difficult and demanding feats of being sung at was the role of an astronomer also on the "Hit Parade." Eileen Wilson was singing "The Loveliest Night Of The Year" in his observatory. He was doing logarithms. Or something. Anyhow, he was computing, trying to keep his mind on astronomy, while she was making all that racket, looking through his telescope and mussing his hair. Probably had to to do it all over again in the morning.

AND SPEAKING of spreading the work around, there's a new wrinkle in commercials which should increase employment considerably. One man introduces another man who, we are informed, has something of interest to tell us. The second man says he has indeed something of enormous interest to tell us Then comes a filmed commercial in which a man who hasn't got a Bonrus misses an appointment, almost ruins his career and preserves his life from unqualified disaster only by buying a Bonrus It seems to me that one or conceivably both of those men could be eliminated but if Bonrus wants to keep them on the payroll, I'm not going to complain. Let's all of us get on television and then no one will have to look at it.

While passing along this friendly advice to sponsors—something I do only on rare occasions—it seems to me the Schlitz people set a dangerous precedent the other night on "Playhouse of the Stars." At the end of the first act, a couple were discovered staring at their TV set, exclaiming how much they liked the play and then dashing to the icebox for some Schlitz. This is a terrible idea to plant in people's minds, that they should vanish into the kitchen the minute the commerical come on How would they know which beer to take out of the icebox? They might stumble onto some Blatz' "Milwaukee's Favorite Beer" rather than Schlitz, "The Beer That Made Milwaukee Famous"—and it simply isn't cricket to drink Blatz and look at something Schlitz paid for.

JUST ONE MORE small note about commercials World Broadcasting System, producers of transcribed programs, has announced that it will produce a special half hour Christmas show called "The Miracle at Christmas," starring Thomas Mitchell. "The Miracle at Christmas" will have open spots left for the insertion of the local sponsor's message There was a time, of course, when "The Miracle" was message enough for the folks, when miracles didn't require local sponsorship, but that was long, long ago

Cincinnati Officials To Lead Services

Captain and Mrs. Albert Scott of the Cincinnati Divisional Headquarters of the Salvation Army will conduct services Sunday at the Marion Citadel. Also they will conduct the praise meeting at the Richwood outpost on Sunday afternoon. Captain Scott is financial secretary of the South-West Ohio and North-East Kentucky Division of the Salvation Army

Services at the Marion citadel will be: Sunday School 9 30 a m; Holiness meeting 11 a m, Salvation meeting 7 45 p m. The service at the Richwood outpost will be at 3 p.m.

PROSPECT SERVICE

For worship service of St Paul's Lutheran Church at Prospect Sunday the sermon topic will be "Christ's Prophecies of Future Events." Wednesday night next week the Luther League will meet with Richard Hansen as host A meeting of the Christmas program planning committee will be held Friday night.

THANK YOU, OHIO

Your reception of 'TREND' has been wonderful!

All of our laboratory tests told us TREND was definitely better than other dishwashing products.

But your response to TREND has been even more enthusiastic than we dared hope for. In a public comparison test, hundreds and hundreds of Ohio women have compared TREND with their favorite washing products. And TREND has won out—on every count!

More than nine out of ten women who participated in this test reported that no soap or suds they've used could beat TREND for dishwashing, for fast grease-cutting, or for skin mildness. Yes, TREND won out — AGAINST ALL DISHWASHING PRODUCTS ON THE MARKET AT ANY PRICE.

TREND WINS HOUSEWIVES' VOTE IN 'COMPARE' TEST

Women Say Trend Cuts Grease Faster

'Lifts Off' Dried Egg; Makes Dishes Sparkle

Scientists said that TREND has the fastest grease-stripping action ever developed. And Ohio housewives proved it! More than 95 per cent of the women in the TREND 'compare' test agreed that nothing they've used can beat TREND when it comes to grease cutting!

"I like the way TREND's rich suds stay right there cutting grease until the last greasy pan is done," says Mrs. Raymond R. Cline, 1920 Greenwood, in Toledo.

That's one of the wonderful things about TREND. It rinses off completely, taking grease and dried foods right off dishes.

Mrs. M. Stroshine, of 2720 La Tonia in Toledo writes: "I've compared TREND with other detergents, and I truly believe that TREND is the best I've ever used for fast grease cutting."

And she's right! TREND is easy on the budget, and easy on your hands, too.

"I do a lot of dishwashing; but I found that the liquid detergent I was using made my hands hurt as did other washing products. But now I use TREND for dishes because it's so very mild and gentle to my hands." So writes Mrs. Nettie Granger of 352 Valleywood Drive, Toledo.

Trend Reported Milder on Hands

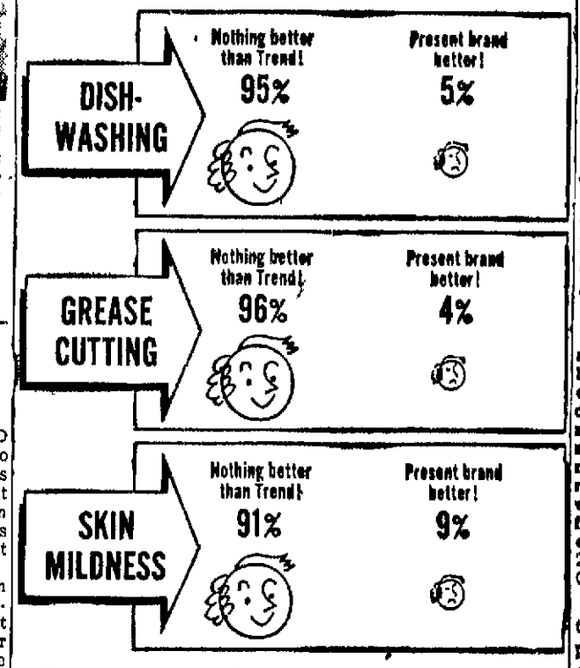
One major reason why TREND is preferred by so many Ohio women is because of its mildness to hands. More than 90 per cent of the housewives taking part in the test said that TREND is as mild or milder than the product they've been using in the past.

This overwhelming evidence in actual home use proves the independent laboratory tests that show TREND is milder for your skin than even the purest of the leading toilet soaps. For TREND is neutral—not acid or alkali.

Imagine a modern dishwashing suds that cuts grease faster than any soap known—yet actually babies your hands every minute they're in the dishpan. That's TREND—the new wonder suds for dishwashing!

Final Count Shows Women Prefer Trend for Dishwashing

HOW WOMEN VOTED FOR TREND



Ohio women compared TREND with their favorite dishwashing and light laundry products. More than 9 out of 10 women thought TREND was as good or better than their old favorite on all three counts. Yet, 95% of the women thought there was nothing better than TREND for dishwashing, 96% reported you can't beat TREND for fast grease-cutting in the dishpan. And 91% of the women agreed there is nothing better than TREND for mildness on skin.

Wins Approval on All 3 Points

The final vote in TREND's dueling public comparison test is in and TREND has won a resounding victory with Ohio women. More than nine out of ten housewives reported that TREND can't be surpassed for dishwashing, grease-cutting and mildness to skin. "And I'm certainly happy I discovered TREND," is a typical comment from hundreds of women.

Says TREND Is Best

"TREND is really the best suds I've ever used for dishes. Now my hands are no longer rough and red. And dishwashing is faster and easier, too," says Mrs. J. Conlisk, 2831 Algonquin Pky, in Toledo, Ohio.

Space doesn't permit listing all the reasons women gave us for preferring TREND. But when it came to washing dishes, most women were delighted with TREND's "grease-cutting" ability. And they loved the way TREND left their hands soft and smooth.

Try TREND in your dishpan and see for yourself how easy dishwashing can be.

Ohio Housewives Give Frank Opinions

Space doesn't permit us to report all of the wonderful things that Ohio housewives had to say about TREND. But here are additional examples from women you may know:

Hundreds of women have written us statements of which the following is typical: "I was so delighted when I saw how wonderful TREND was for washing my delicate nylons, rayons and woolens. Why, even my finest sweaters dried soft and fluffy after a washing in TREND and cool water. And my lingerie and delicate prints all rinsed out bright and lovely. Yes, TREND is the safest, mildest suds I've ever used."

"We've been living at the lake this summer, and have to use well water. I find that TREND does a wonderful job of grease-cutting, and makes heaps of suds even in this cold water."

Mrs. Carl Cooper
324 Valleywood Dr.
Toledo 5, Ohio

"Thank you for introducing me to TREND. I think TREND is wonderful for my sheerest silks, nylons and my woolens. TREND is fine in the dishpan, too."

Mrs. J. Schneider
2678 Northwood
Toledo 6, Ohio

"I have used other sudsers; but since I got TREND, I use it all the time. I love the way it cuts the grease so much faster than anything I've ever used in my dishpan."

Mrs. M. Stidham
3639 Burton Ave.
Toledo 12, Ohio

"Another wonderful feature of TREND is that there's no 'dust' or 'smell' to bother my noses. TREND doesn't make me sneeze."

Mrs. C. Schotter
3611 Wallworth
Toledo, Ohio

Head of Area Recruiting Speaks Here

Col. Brandner On Marion Military Manpower Program

Presentation of an informative program to both the young man and woman eligible for service in the armed forces and also the community at large was the challenge of Col. Carl S. Brandner of Columbus, head of the Ohio-Kentucky Recruiting Service in a talk last night before the Marion Military Manpower Committee.

Col. Brandner and Capt. Richard W. Davis, also of the Ohio-Kentucky Recruiting Service, and Capt. Roy E. Gray of Columbus Recruiting Detachment No. 4, were guests at a dinner meeting held by the committee at the Snyder Hotel. Presiding was Melvin G. Weston, chairman of the committee. Arrangements were in charge of Tech. Sgt. Darwin A. Lillie and Cpl. Thomas E. Turner of the Marion Recruiting Station.

Cpl. Brandner commended the work of the local recruiting officers and also the local draft board. As long as young men are subject to selective service, an educational program showing them what to expect in the way of induction procedure and orientation to life in the armed forces, should be a part of the school program, the colonel believes. It would, he added, save the boy, and also his family, many heartaches.

Capt. Gray added his commendation to the work of the local recruiting office, and the draft board in a brief talk on recruitment. He stressed the importance of young men enlisting now in order to select the branch of service they preferred, and pointed out that present orders set midnight, Nov. 30, as the deadline for such a procedure. After that date, he stated, men who have received their pre-induction physical examination or notice to take such examination, may no longer enlist in any branch of service but must wait for induction by the selective service system into the armed forces. He cited Marion and this area as one of the most productive areas in the district.

Ralph E. Forrest was named to arrange for placing of display cards featuring the branches of the armed forces.

Congressmen Split on Trends Of Election

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—Congress members divided sharply today over whether Tuesday's election results foreshadowed any national trend which would affect the 1952 vote.

Some Republican lawmakers claimed they saw in the returns from around the country an indication their party's star is in the ascendancy and is sure to shine over the White House after next November's election.

Democrats, on the other hand, were inclined to discount all that as wishful thinking. They said Tuesday's balloting reflected local issues almost entirely—even in cases of Democratic successes.

Outside Congress, the new Democratic national chairman, Frank E. McKinney, pointed to what he termed "spotty results" and said "I'm firmly of the opinion that no definite trend is indicated."

On the Republican side, Senator Tobey of New Hampshire, regarded the outcome as "a big help" for those who want Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the GOP presidential nominee next year.

But Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) declared there was "no national trend toward Eisenhower, Taft, President Truman or any one else."

CAT SHOW SCHEDULED

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8—(AP)—Alley cats will rub noses with champion tabbies in the Ohio State Persian Club's annual cat show Dec. 1 and 2 in the ballroom of Columbus' Southern Hotel.

Today's Birthday

BUCKY (STANLEY RAYMOND) HARRIS, born Nov. 8, 1896, in Port Jervis, N. Y., has managed many major league baseball teams.

He now manages the Washington Senators. Among other teams he managed were the New York Yankees, Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox. Harris went to work in the mines at 13 and played ball on a Sunday School team for several years before making the professional grade.

Erie Ticket Agents To Meet Nov. 19

Reduced train fares available to clubs, lodges and other organized groups for trips to conventions, sports events and similar functions will be emphasized when Erie Railroad ticket agents and other passenger department personnel in the Kent division hold their annual fall conference here Nov. 19.

A. C. Oldenquist, passenger traffic manager, said that organizations can realize tremendous savings when their members travel by train to special events. As an example, he said a minimum group of 25 persons can travel at a cost equal to 72 per cent of the railroad round trip coach fare between two points at the present time. The minimum group for school all-expense tours is 15, he added. There are also proportionate larger savings where there are groups of 300 or more.

The conference will be conducted by F. J. Wild, general passenger agent, and Charles D. Mee, chief clerk of passenger accounting, in cooperation with station supervisors and division passenger representatives.

The meeting will be held at Hotel Harding at 8 p.m.

Taft Invites Dixie Into GOP Camp

Predicts Some State Groups Will Quit Democratic Party

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8—(AP)—Dissatisfied southern Democrats were invited into the Republican camp today by Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio).

Taft issued the invitation on his southern trip to win support for his bid for the GOP presidential nomination. The senator, who made three speeches here yesterday, predicted at a press conference that some state Democratic organizations would make a complete break with their national party this year.

All southern Democratic organizations, he added, would be welcomed if they broke completely from "the entangling alliance of the Truman Democratic party."

During one speech, Taft said the Republican presidential candidate could easily carry some southern states next year.

"Of course, there must be presented to the southern voter—as there never has been presented—all of the issues and the Republican position on those issues," he continued.

"If that is done, I am sure they will find themselves far more in agreement with the principles of the Republican candidate than in those which emanate from the CIO political Action Committee, of the Democratic National Committee in Washington that works hand in glove with the CIO."

Taft left last night for Kansas City, Mo.

2 More Tires, Wheels Stolen

Spare tires and wheels were stolen from two new Plymouth cars this morning and last night, police reported today. This makes a total of four tires stolen since Monday night from new Plymouths, of which the trunks were forced open.

W. M. Warner of 279 Thew Ave. reported that the trunk of his 1950 car was pried open and the tire and wheel removed at 8:50 a.m. as the machine was parked at 464 Oak St.

The other tire and wheel were taken from a 1952 Plymouth owned by Paul Bell after the trunk was picked open at 5:55 last night. The car was parked in front of Bell's home at 463 N. State St.

Loss in both cases was valued by the owners at $50.

Spare tires, valued at $37 each, were stolen Monday night from two 1951 Plymouths parked on Oak St.

Council Called To Act On Sewage Plans

A special meeting of City Council along with Auditor Elmer Shaw and Floyd G. Browne, consulting engineer, will be held next week to discuss the next step in Marion's sewage disposal problem.

Passage of the $600,000 bond issue at the Tuesday election assured the city of a new disposal plant but a three-quarter mill levy placed before the voters to provide operating expenses was turned down.

Failure of the levy to pass presents Council with the problem of operating a new three-quarter million dollar disposal plant on $30,000 a year, the same amount presently used in operating the inadequate plant now being used.

Church Classes Hear Evangelist

Two classes of Calvary EUB Church attended in a group the revival service at the church Wednesday night. Represented were the Men's and Women's Class taught by Charles Feaver and the Homemakers Class taught by Mrs. R. W. Faulkner.

Rev. H. L. Zachman of Canton is evangelist for the meeting, which will continue through Friday night. Presenting special music Wednesday night was a vocal trio composed of Mrs. Faulkner, Miss Ruth Zachman and Miss Nova Witthuhn. Testimonies were given by several from the congregation, and Rev. R. W. Faulkner, pastor, offered prayer.

In his message, Rev. Zachman said: "It is a wonderful thing to be ever conscious that God is by our side. There are many cults today, but it takes more than a cult to satisfy the longing of the human soul. There are a great many people trying to live the Christian life before they have anything to live it with. If you want to be victorious, you will have to master the thing by the grace of God which has been mastering you."

PARKED CAR HIT

Minor damage was reported today when a car driven by Charles F. Morhan, 21, of Twin Oaks Trailer camp skidded on slippery E. Center St. and struck a parked car owned by Robert J. Stair of 472 E. Center St. parked in front of the Stair home at 7:41 a.m. today.

JOY

PROCTER & GAMBLE'S Sensational New Liquid Sudsmaker CUTS GREASE FASTER, BETTER!

It's true! No soap flakes or powders get dishes done as quickly as JOY.

For JOY is already dissolved. Makes more suds faster. Cuts grease better. Dishes go from grease to shine in half the time—without wiping. Pots and pans rinse clean—without hard, messy scouring.

You'll be overjoyed, too, when you see how kind this smooth, mild liquid is to your hands. Gives real beauty care to finest washable fabrics.

And a handy bottle of JOY goes almost twice as far as a big box of soap in hardest water. Get JOY for the fastest, easiest nicest dishwashing possible.

WASHES ALMOST TWICE AS MANY DISHES AS A BIG BOX OF SOAP IN HARDEST WATER!

Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping

Put JOY in your dishpan-today!

In Loving Memory

★Of our dear son, Everett W Faust, who passed away one year ago, November 8, 1950.

Your end was sudden dear, you made us weep and cry,
But, oh, the saddest part of all, you never said goodbye.
He little thought when leaving home,
He would return no more.
That he in death would sleep alone,
And leave us here to mourn.
Tears may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of the happy days
That we all spent together.
God gave us strength to fight it,
And courage to bear the blow,
But what it means to lose him,
No one will ever know.

Sadly missed by his Mother, Father, Brothers and Sisters.

Jury Watches Blood Test

Chemist Performs At Phillips Trial

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8—(AP)—The prosecution yesterday demonstrated chemical tests on a blood-stained shirt before the jury trying George Phillips for the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Alter.

Dr. Anson L. Brown, a pathologist called by Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett, performed the tests on a shirt the police said belonged to Philips.

Jury and spectators watched intently as Dr. Brown prepared his chemicals.

"I will place a small drop of this reagent on a part of this shirt," Dr. Brown said. "And if blue spots, which may be the size of a pinhead or larger, appear, that will show positive for blood."

Six blue spots appeared.

Later Dr. Brown told the jury the shirt showed "blood from one end to the other."

Dr. Horace B. Davidson, an expert called by Defense Attorney Paul M Herbert, previously had testified he had found no spots on the shirt to test for blood.

Phillips, a 23-year-old insurance salesman, has pleaded innocent to the charge of second-degree murder. He claims he did not go near the home of the 32-year-old housewife the day she was beaten and strangled.

Harding at Sandusky - - St. Mary vs. Elm Valley Friday

Streaks Favored By 2 Touchdowns

Harding's Presidents will be tagged underdogs by at least two touchdowns against Sandusky Friday night when they journey for the last road game of the season.

Ranking 13th among Ohio prep school teams, the Blue Streaks boast a record of seven wins against a single loss. Their lone loss came at the hands of powerful Fremont Ross in a ding-dong battle taken by the Giants, 19-14.

Single-Wing

Running from a single-wing, the Streaks depend mainly on a strong running game with a potent aerial attack furnishing occasional scoring punch. Two of the hardest running backs in the state run under the Sandusky colors, Ted Schwanger, fullback, and Judo Theibert, tailback. The Sandusky line will average 182 pounds.

Other than the Fremont loss, the Streaks have rolled to impressive margins over their other foes. They dumped Akron West, 20-0, Elyria, 20-19, Toledo Scott, 25-7, Port Clinton, 61-6, Lorain, 31-14, Cleveland Lincoln 31-13, and Findlay, 53-7.

Two Ailing

With the exception of Halfback Jim Chapman and Lineman Tats Taylor, the Proxies appear at top strength. Some of the Harding gridders picked up colds in the 7-6 win over Columbus South in last Friday's snowstorm. Chapman is slowed by a sore back while Taylor is nursing a leg injury. Tom McClain has snapped back from a shoulder injury which forced him out of any defensive assignment last week.

The Presidents will return home next week for a game with the Fremont crew, the final game of the year. The winner of that game will be crowned Buckeye League champions.

Upper Cagers To Play 17 Games

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Nov. 8—A 17-game cage schedule for the Upper Sandusky Rams was listed today by new Coach Dave McFadden.

The schedule follows: Dec. 4, Ada; Dec. 7 at Crestline; Dec. 11, Carey; Dec. 14 at Clyde; Dec. 21, Mansfield Madison; Jan. 4, Willard; Jan. 5 at Wapakoneta; Jan. 11 at Willard; Jan. 12, Van Wert; Jan. 18 at Norwalk; Jan. 25, Galion; Feb. 1, Bucyrus; Feb. 8 at Shelby; Feb. 9 at Mansfield Madison; Feb. 15, Bellevue; Feb. 22, Crestline; Feb. 23 at Kenton.

Picks MSC To Defeat Notre Dame

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—Two of the season's biggest games are scheduled for this week-end with Notre Dame the guest of Michigan State while Southern California and Stanford tangle on the West Coast for the coast conference Rose Bowl honors.

Here's how the crystal ball says the games, plus others on Saturday's schedule will turn out:

Michigan State over Notre Dame: The Spartans have had a week's rest to get set and allow their injuries to heal although Notre Dame got little more than a scrimmage in defenting Navy last Saturday. The Irish are relying on sophomores and freshmen with experience on the side of the Michigan Staters. It should be a scoring thriller similar to the 36-33 Michigan State victory of a year ago.

Southern California over Stanford: Any team with Pat Cannamela in its lineup must be favored. A low bow is due both teams for their rise this year, following poor seasons in 1950.

Others, briefly:

Illinois over Iowa; Tennessee over Washington & Lee; Maryland over Navy; Princeton over Harvard; Georgia Tech over Virginia Military; Wisconsin over Pennsylvania; Texas over Baylor, Michigan over Cornell; Kentucky over Tulane; Ohio State over Pittsburgh; Cincinnati over Ohio University; Indiana over Minnesota, and Northwestern over Purdue.

Claims Dodger Farm System Lost $129,318

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers, speaking in support of the farm system, says that Brooklyn lost $129,318 on its minor league operations in 1950 . . . he calls it a "subsidy" to the minors . . . The Phillies' Bob Carpenter, putting the annual cost of running a chain at $500,000, estimates that it costs $347,000 to develop one major league player . . . Both figures add up to one thing: too much . . . Obviously a city like Santa Barbara, Calif. (pop. 44,764) can't afford to take a $70,000 loss on baseball even if that includes the cost of a big tryout school . . . It can't afford the school, either . . . The same goes for $23,000 at Valdosta, Ga. . . . even Dynamite Goodloe probably doesn't love Valdosta, that much . . . So while they're "subsidizing the minors" the Dodgers seem to be subsidizing independent opposition right out of business in those leagues . . . A minor leaguer, kicking the subject around recently suggested: "Why not make it a real subsidy for the Class C and D leagues? . . . have the majors establish a fund to cover losses but let the independent owners operate the clubs on a reasonable financial scale . . . In the same way, let the clubs use local talent as far as possible, but have the majors set up a pool of young players on which they could draw to fill out their squads." . . . dunno. It's just an idea, but maybe it would work.

When Sammy Baugh was heading for the Redskins training camp last fall to start his 15th season of pro football, a couple of Washington writers cornered him and asked: "Sam, is this going to be your last season?" . . . Baugh paused reflectively before replying: "I don't know: I haven't tried it yet . . . Maybe last year was."

* * *

Heavyweight Dan Bucceroni, who tackles highly-rated Roland Lastarza tomorrow night, asks: "What can I lose? You can't get anywhere wailing for the guys you can lick." . . . Leading scorer in Big Seven football is John Konek, regular defensive halfback at Kansas. He has collected 45 points on passes, one interception and extra points . . . Most serious casualty of last week's New Hampshire-Connecticut game was Bill Stearns, N. H. publicitor, who missed a step leaving the press box and sprained an ankle . . . Reg Sinclair, the Rangers hockey rookie, was a radio disc jockey during the summer . . . what the rangers need is someone to jockey a disc into the goal.

Gavilan Stops Janiro Early

DETROIT, Nov. 8—(AP)—The "Keed" from Cuba, welterweight champion Kid Gavilan, traded his famed bolo punch for left hooks here last night, and belted Tony Janiro way back down into the middleweight ranks.

Gavilan floored the Youngstown veteran three times in the fourth round of their 10-round non-title bout, and was awarded a technical knockout. It promised him a January date with England's Randy Turpin, one-time conqueror of Sugar Ray Robinson.

The quick victory also earned him the thanks of radio and television fans. The fight would have been cut off, if it had gone the distance, to make way for a speech by President Truman.

"I fought the fight just the way I planned," the grinning Gavilan explained later. "I knew Tony dropped his right every time he led with his left. I was waiting for him to do it, then I hit him with a left hook every time."

Janiro's handler, Ray Arcel, explained:

"It's one of those things you can't figure out. Tony was ready for this fight. He just got rocked and that's it."

GRAY TOPPERS MEET

The Marion Gray Toppers, girls basketball team, will hold their first practice session of the season tonight at the Y.M.C.A. The session is scheduled for 7 p.m.

COLLEGE PLAYING FINISHED. Johnny Bright, Drake's great halfback, walks through the equipment room at Des Moines, Ia., carrying the No. 43 jersey that he will wear no more in action with Drake. The senior Bright, the nation's leading all-time ground gainer, has been forced to end his collegiate competition because of a broken jaw suffered in action Oct. 20, against Oklahoma A. and M. Drake has one remaining game to play.

Berra American Loop's Most Valuable Player

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—Yogi Berra, squat New York Yankee catcher, today was voted most valuable player in the American League for 1951 in an astonishing finish to a wide open race.

Tabulation of votes from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America showed Berra, Ned Garver of St. Louis and Allie Reynolds of the Yanks each had six first place ballots.

The result was sure to start tongues wagging around the circuit for Berra slumped badly in September and finished with a .294 batting average. The 26-year-old Berra led the Yanks in runs batted in with 88 and hit 27 home runs.

184 Points.

Berra won on points with a total of 184 on the basis of 14 for a first place vote, nine for second and so on down to one for 10th.

Garver, baby-faced 20-game winner for the last place Browns, was a close-up second with 157 points and Reynolds, who threw two no-hitters for the world champs, was third with 125 points.

Voting was distributed among 33 players with another 15 receiving honorable mention in the closest finish in years.

With Berra in the American and Brooklyn's Roy Campanella in the National this was the first year two catchers were named most valuable. In fact you have to go back to the league awards in 1924 to find two winners who played the same position—Dazzy Vance Brooklyn pitcher, and Walter Johnson, Washington fireballer.

No less than eight men drew first place votes in this split ticket election. Phil Rizzuto of the Yanks, the 1950 winner, drew one first but finished 11th. So did Yankee Eddie Lopat who finished 12th.

Berra won on the strength of five seconds, four fourths, a fifth, two sixths, a seventh, an eighth and two ninths. He was mentioned on 22 ballots, more than any other player.

Garver Won 20

Garver (20-12) pitched the most complete games, 24, and accounted for about 40 per cent of the Browns total victories.

Reynolds' second no hitter clinched at least a tie for the Yankees in the last week of the season. Both Lopat and Vic Raschi topped him in wins but his 17-8 record included seven shutouts.

Orestes Minoso, Chicago, was fourth with 120 points; Bobby Feller, Cleveland, fifth, 118; Ferris Fain, Philadelphia, sixth, 103; Ellis Kinder, Boston seventh, 66; Vic Raschi, New York, eighth, 64; Gil McDougald, New York, ninth, 63 and Bobby Avila Cleveland, 10th with 49.

Owen vs. Brown In Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 8—(AP)—Paul Brown and Steve Owen were named today to coach opposing squads in the third annual Senior Bowl football game here Jan. 5.

Owen, veteran New York Giant mentor, will coach the South squad for the third straight year.

Brown, head coach of the Cleveland Browns professional football champions, will direct the North squad for the first time. He will replace Alvin (Bo) McMillin, who has to give up his duties because of a serious operation.

Owen's "South" teams won the first two senior bowl games by narrow margins from McMillin's "North" squads.

Iowa Back New Leading Ground Gainer

CHICAGO, Nov. 8—(AP)—Reliable Bill Reichardt of Iowa has replaced Freshman Alan Ameche of Wisconsin as the Big Ten's top ground gainer.

The veteran Hawkeye fullback banged 166 yards in 31 carries against Minnesota last Saturday and raised his total for four conference games to 476 yards.

Ameche, last week's leader, has 448 yards to his credit in five games.

Reichardt's per-play average of 5.3 yards also is the best for the conference's heavy-duty runners. He has carried the ball 90 times in conference games. In 91 rushes, Ameche has compiled a 4.9 yard average.

Of those backs carrying less consistently, Jerry Witt of Wisconsin has the highest mark, 8.4 yards average on 18 attempts. Wes Bradford of Michigan has been getting 6.5 yards, figured on 33 tries, and George Rice of Iowa, 5.7 yards in 47 attempts.

Witt continues to lead Big Ten scorers with 36 points, a touchdown ahead of Illinois' Johnny Karras.

Threat Made On Marciano

BROCKTON, Mass., Nov. 8—(AP)—Police have been warned that an attempt will be made on the life of boxer Rocky Marciano at a homecoming celebration this Saturday.

Two postcards which police said appeared to be the work of a crank were received, one by police and the other by a newspaper.

Police Chief D. Edward Sullivan said he will assign a big detail to protect the fighter at a public reception in honor of his recent knockout victory over former heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

The card sent to police headquarters said:

"Don't take chances. Watch Rocky. He will be hurt. Better watch. He will pay."

The second card, sent to the Brockton Enterprise, said:

"To whom it may concern: Rocky better keep an eye open. I know he will be shot as soon as he makes his bow. Money involved."

Irish In Season Finale at Stadium

By JOHN SHORT

Elm Valley, Middle Buckeye conference champions, will move into Harding Stadium tomorrow night for a game with St. Mary's Fighting Irish.

It will wind up the current grid campaign for Coach Ray Robbins and his crew.

The visitors last week moved up as one of the leading high school teams in Ohio with a resounding 34-0 win over previously unbeaten Cardington. A wind-driven snowstorm and slippery footing failed to halt the winners' attack after a slow start in the first period.

T-Quarterback

Quarterback Dick Howard, who runs the team from the T, paved the way for the win as he raced for four touchdowns, two of them coming on long runs. Coach Emil Ihnat will throw a big hard-charging line at the Irish. Ronald McKenzie, right tackle, is the biggest man on the squad, weighing in at 240 pounds. Working beside McKenzie is Guard Don Cummins to give the visitors' right side plenty of strength. On the other side of the line will be Von Reed at guard and Roger Kipp at tackle. Jim Pendleton winds out the line at the center post.

Sparking the offense along with Howard will be Halfbacks Don Redd and Charles Martin and Fullback Wayne Last. A lot of running also is available in Merlin Sheets, Ihnat's No. 5 back. Larry Carper and Charles McGrath have proved valuable parts of the Elm Valley offense all year with their pass snagging on Howard's tosses.

Doubtful List

Three Irish gridders are on the doubtful list after last week's 7-6 win over Mansfield Madison. Dan Merchant was injured in that tilt and required hospital attention. He was released from the hospital early this week but probably will miss the windup. Mike Anderson, another of the injured, suffered a bad shoulder bruise in the Mansfield game and may be shelved. Larry Ryan winds out the injury list with a bruised knee.

Easter Reports Knee Feels Much Better

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8—(AP)—Although Luke Easter now is scheduled to undergo a knee operation here on Nov. 23, the Cleveland first baseman reports from the playing fronts that the joint is much better.

Easter, who hobbled throughout most of last season, has been playing daily and batting .400 with a barnstorming troupe headed by Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

"He called from Dallas the other day to say that his knee was a lot better," Tribe General Manager Hank Greenberg said yesterday. For that matter it was a bit stronger toward the end of the season."

There is little doubt, however, but that the operation will be performed. The surgery was to have been next Tuesday, but was delayed 10 days when the doctor scheduled to operate cut his hand.

The Indians also said that Dick Wakefield, former Detroit Tigers outfielder, has been invited to again try out with the club at spring training in Tucson, Ariz.

Wakefield, turned loose by the Tigers in 1948 and the New York Yankees the following year, worked out briefly with the Indians last season.

Radnor Basketball Schedule Drawn

RADNOR, Nov. 8—The Radnor Trojans announced a 17-game basketball schedule today including the Marion carnival with St. Mary, Elm Valley and Magnetic Springs at the Colisum Dec. 28-29.

Following is the schedule: Nov. 9, Magnetic Springs; Nov. 16, Milford Center; Nov. 20, Waldo; Nov. 30, Berlin; Dec. 7, Ostrander; Dec. 14, Elm Valley; Dec. 18 at Columbus St. Mary; Dec. 28-29, Marion Carnival—Marion Coliseum (Elm Valley, Marion St. Marys, Sulphur Springs, Radnor); Jan. 4 at Powell; Jan. 5 at Pleasant; Jan. 11 at Harlem; Jan. 15, Columbus St. Marys; Jan. 18, Hyatts (homecoming); Jan. 25, Bellpoint; Feb. 1 at Big Walnut; Feb. 8 at Orange in Delaware.

LA STARZA WITHDRAWS

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—Roland La Starza, ranking New York heavyweight contender, today withdrew from a Friday night Madison Square Garden date with Dan Bucceroni of Philadelphia due to a virus infection and high fever. The International Boxing Club is trying to match Danny Nardico of Tampa, Fla., with Bucceroni as a substitute bout.

KNOCKING ON THE DOOR. Ashland High School, whose teams beat Harding twice in basketball last season and in football this year, is making overtures toward joining the Buckeye League.

Although Principal John Hartzler has made no formal application at this date, the league has been informed of the A's intentions.

The league is presently made up of Harding, Fremont Ross, Findlay, Fostoria, Bowling Green, and Tiffin Columbian. The latter team, although a member, is not competing in football this fall.

WHIZ KIDS. It's our guess that the Ashland baskeball team of last season could have beaten all of the Buckeye League quintets with the possible exception of a tall Findlay outfit.

The A's boasted one of the best 10 teams in the state and were nothing short of terrific in their games against Coach Kenny Somerlot's cagers. They looked well-coached and showed plenty of poise.

FOOTBALL DIFFERENT. But getting around to football competition it's our guess the A's would find the going tough. Granted Ashland has one of the strongest elevens among the smaller schools we believe they would need more depth to compete in the Buckeye Loop. Thirteen or 14 good players isn't enough when you meet teams like Bowling Green, Fremont Ross, Harding, and Fostoria in one season.

It's our guess Ashland could lick the Trojans of Findlay this season, but Findlay is having an off year and likely will be back strong in '52.

Ashland was in a position with its weak grid schedule to point for Harding and work itself up to a keyed-up peak for the President, but they couldn't do it for several games.

GREEN LIGHT. Personally, we would like to see the A's admitted. If they can take the same enrollment and turn out first-class basketball teams they might even be able to win their share of football.

But it will take considerable more help from the Boosters Club and more emphasis on football than Ashland has shown this season.

TV Fans To See Maryland, Navy

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 8—Football fans in the WLW-C, Columbus, viewing area can watch one of the nation's top teams perform this Saturday, Nov. 10, as the NCAA-Westinghouse TV schedule offers the game between Navy and unbeaten-untied Maryland, played at Baltimore.

It's an "intersectional" day on the NCAA board with a total of 19 Midwestern and Western NBC TV stations carrying this tilt, between the Terrapins, conquerors of Washington & Lee, George Washington, Georgia, North Carolina, Louisiana State and Missouri and the Middies who still seek their first victory, although they fought Yale to a 7-7 tie in the opening game of the season for both clubs.

Rounding out the intersectional pattern of the day's telecasts is the Michigan State-Notre Dame tussle at Lansing, slated for telecasting via 16 stations in the East and Southeast.

Next Saturday, Nov. 17, WLW-C will be blacked-out in accordance with the NCAA experimental program.

Forest, Shawnee In League Finale

The Forest High School Rangers will close the football season Friday night when they meet the Shawnee Indians in a Northwest Conference game at Shawnee. Shawnee has a 3-3 record in league play but lost three games by close scores. In their six games they have had but 39 points scored against them. Forest must win this game to keep undisputed possession of second place.

Name Ohio PTA Board Chairmen

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8 —(UP)— Mrs. L. C. Staats, new president of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, has announced chairmen of the organization's board of managers. The chairmen will meet here Nov. 30 and Dec. 1.

They are: Allen E. Rupp, Cambridge, character and spiritual education; W. Edgar Massie, Portsmouth, reading and library service; Mrs. Howard Wenning, Mansfield, publicity; Dr. Edna Oswalt, Kent, parent education; and Mrs. Floyd Roundy, Akron, membership.

Others are Mrs. Verna Walters, Kent, school lunch; Dr. Paul A. Miller, Warren, special education; Mrs. E. H. Tlemoyer, Newton, summer roundup; Mrs. Donald Crockett, Cleveland, programs; Mrs. F. C. Gerthing, Youngstown, founder's day; Dale Haskett, Bedford, dental hygiene; Mrs. Russell C. Bickel, Columbus, legislation; Mrs. W. C. Davis, Medina, by-laws and Mrs. Walter E. Boruh, Toledo, historian.

Local Ministers Against Naming Vatican Envoy

When the Marion County Ministerial Association met Monday morning at the YMCA, plans for the community Thanksgiving service were discussed. The service will be Thanksgiving morning at 9 in the Prospect St. Methodist Church.

During business, action taken by the group included passing of a resolution that "The Marion County Ministerial Association is opposed to the United States sending an ambassador to the Vatican and urges the United States Senate to defeat such a proposal. It is regrettable that the President of the United States announced such an appointment even though he later withdrew it temporarily and left the matter with the Senate.

"For us to establish diplomatic relations with the Vatican would be contrary to the American principle of the separation of church and state. We would not want to sacrifice this principle of our freedom. We do not want the church in a preferential position."

Devotions were in charge of Rev. H. V. Falor centered on the thought of each member examining his motives, for entering the ministry.

Rev. William Reeves reviewed "The Life We Prize" by Dr. Elton Trueblood, professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind. Following business, closing prayor was by Rev. William Kissel of Waldo.

INASMUCH CIRCLE MEETS

When the Inasmuch Circle of King's Daughters met Tuesday night, Mrs. Dale Miller was hostess in her home on S. Vine St. A memorial service was conducted for two members who died recently, Miss Ann Moreness and Mrs. George Smith. Mrs. J. F. Neidhart gave devotions on "The Modern Psalm," and Mrs. E. R. Barnthouse presented "The Registry Gate." Miss DeEmma Hawley presided, and Mrs. Walter Dorsey reported on the convention in Columbus last month. Following the program, a bake sale and auction sale were held. Mrs. Dale Miller and Mrs. Dorsey assisted the hostess in serving. A work meeting will be held Nov. 16 at Epworth Methodist Church, and the next evening meeting will be Dec. 6 at the home of Mrs. Merle Hamilton.

The world's first streamlined ferryboat, the Kalakala, built in 1935 at the Lake Washington shipyards in Seattle, was put into operation between Seattle and Bremerton.

Community Night Planned Friday by New EUB Church

Pastors of other churches in the city and community organizations will take part in the Friday night service for the Dedication Week Christian Community Night observance at the new First EUB Church. The theme will be "That They All May Be One." Composing the committee on arrangements are Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig of Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church, president of the Marion County Council of Churches, and Rev. H. V. Falor of Oakland EUB Church. Music will be by the Eastside Mothersingers and a men's quartet from Trinity Baptist Church.

Rev. Fred Leech, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church and past president of the Marion County Ministerial Association, will preside and give call to worship. A message, "The Marks of a Great Religion," will be by Rev. Ashley Booth of Central Christian Church, president of the Marion County Ministerial Association.

The instrumental prelude will be by Mrs. J. Paul Goebel, wife of the pastor of First Evangelical and Reformed Church. Later, Rev. Goebel will offer prayer.

Following processional and call to worship, invocation prayer will be by Rev. Norman Renn of Fite Memorial Baptist Church. The quartet from Trinity Church will sing twice during the program, "Let's Be Singing," and "God Is Waiting." The group is composed of Dail Gorman, F. H. LeMaster, J. H. Taylor, and C. M. Gorby. Responsive reading of the Apostles Creed will be led by Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran Church, followed by the Gloria Patri in unison with the congregation standing.

Under direction of Mrs. Warren Wise, the Eastside Mothersingers will be heard in three numbers during the program, "Praise We Sing," Haydn, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," Cain, and "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked." Scripture by Capt. Mary Nislewicz of the Salvation Army, one of the quartet numbers, prayer, and second anthem by women's group will precede the message, and final anthem will follow. Closing prayer and benediction will be by Rev. Falor.

CAT PUT ON SPOT

GREENWICH, Conn. —(UP)— Mittens, a four-year-old house cat, figured she had eight lives left after an emergency operation pulled her through from the effects of a gangland-style shooting by two teen-age youths who fled the scene in a car.

Defense Bond Sales Lag Here

Robert E. White, Marion County defense bond chairman, disclosed today that county sales in the current defense bond drive are at 59.9 per cent of quota with only five days remaining in which sales can be credited to the drive. Thirty-one counties are over the top and 11 additional counties have reached the 90 per cent mark.

Of Ohio's 88 counties, Adams, with heavy sales during the past week was first, having sold nearly three times its quota and attaining a percentage of 298.5. The ranking of the first 10 in the state was: Adams, Pike, Harrison, Wyandot, Williams Noble, Paulding, Fulton, Allen and Summit.

ENTERTAINS CLASS

Mrs. Mary Livensparger entertained members of the King Sunday School Class of Epworth Methodist Church Tuesday night at her home at 461 Summit St. Mrs. Gertrude Garver conducted devotions, and Mrs. Kathryn Veness, president, presided for the meeting during which it was decided to ask Mrs. Callia Banning to be the assistant teacher for the class. Miss Arena Hinds had the Bible lesson on the topc "Heaven." Plans were made for a Christmas meeting to be held Dec. 5 in the church basement, with a 25 cent gift exchange to be conducted among the members. Mrs. Gladys Stewart's group, with Mrs. Grace Ulsh in charge, served refreshments.

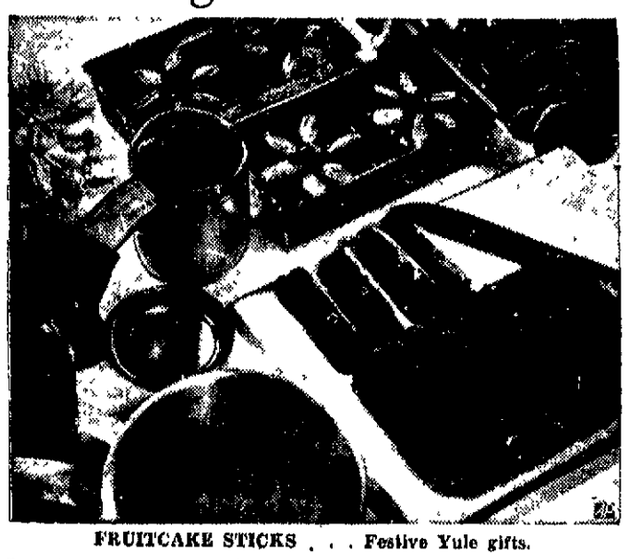
Something New in Fruitcake



FRUITCAKE STICKS . . . Festive Yule gifts.

ITALIAN ROAST COFFEE . . . Serve it with lemon.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

HERE'S something new in fruitcake for holiday eaters with a real sweet tooth. Put sticks of dark fruitcake, enriched with Brazil nuts, into wide-necked jars and cover them with an orange syrup. Then seal and mellow for home eating, or wrap the jars festively and give away for gifts.

To make the sticks prepare your favorite recipe for dark rich fruitcake, using Brazil nuts for the nut meats called for. To prepare the shelled Brazil nuts for the cake cover them with cold water and bring slowly to a boil; boil for three minutes, or until the nuts may be sliced easily. Drain and cut in thin lengthwise pieces so they'll show in creamy slices in the fruitcake sticks and right through the jars.

BRAZIZL NUT FRUITCAKE STICKS

Ingredients—1 one-pound loaf dark fruitcake made with Brazil nuts (baked in 8x3x2-inch pan), 1½ cups sugar, ½ cup light corn syrup, ½ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon rum flavoring.

Method: Cut cake in 8 slices; cut each slice in half. Place sticks upright into two wide-neck pint jars. Put sugar, corn syrup, and orange juice in saucepan; cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sugar is dissolved. Bring to a boil and cook 3 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in rum flavoring. Pour over fruit cake sticks; cover jars.

Perfect to accompany this super-rich fruitcake dessert, or to serve with fresh fruit, is Italian coffee — dark and flavorful because of its slow roasting. This demitasse coffee should never be served with cream, though sugar is permissible. A twist of lemon peel in it is allowed! You may make this Italian-type coffee in a regulation drip or vacuum coffee maker, but not in a percolator. Or if you have a continental "macchinetta"—little machine—especially designed for preparing coffee, use it of course.

Marion Serviceman Arrives in States

Staff Sgt. John W. "Jack" Garrison this week informed his parents in Marion that he has arrived in this country from overseas and will be at home shortly. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Garrison of 236 Chestnut St., and has been stationed with a U.S. Air Force group on Okinawa. He called his parents from San Francisco, Calif.

Overseas 23 months in Japan and Okinawa, he has been serving with a fighter squadron on the ground force. A 1946 graduate of Harding High School, he was employed at the Marion Power Shovel Co. before entering service, three years ago in July. After a 30-day furlough at home, he will be assigned to another Air Force base, presumably in this country. A brother, Pfc. Ward Garrison, died during World War II in the battle of Tunisia. Another brother, Robert D. Garrison of 287 Kenmore Ave., served during World War II in the Caribbean area and Curacao.

LOST TO WORLD

JACKSON, Mich. — (UP) — Chaplain William Saunders of the Southern Michigan state prison says that more than one-third of the 6,000 inmates haven't received a visit from anyone on the outside since they were imprisoned. He said most of the men don't want any contact with the outside world.

Wesleyan Service Guild Holds Supper Meeting

A potluck supper preceded a business and program meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of Prospect Street Methodist Church held Tuesday night at the church.

Miss Mary Mehaffey, president, presided for the meeting during which plans were made to adopt a baby in Korea for a year. For the group's guest party in February, it was decided to have the members of the two guilds of Epworth Methodist Church as guests. At the Christmas meeting in December, members will have a 50 cent gift exchange and also will bring dry food products to be sent to India for Christmas.

For the devotional service, Mrs. Bernard Brooks read a poem, "Thanks," gave a meditation on "The Pilgrim Faith," read scripture from the 6th chapter of Luke and offered prayer.

Guest speaker for the program was Mrs. Ernest Weiss, who with her husband, Dr. Weiss, and two daughters, recently returned from China. Dr. Weiss is a medical missionary. She related some of their experiences on their trip to China and their work with the people of China. She also displayed a number of articles which they brought with them on their return to the States.

Mrs. Charles Ruth was a guest. On the committee in charge of the supper were Mrs. John Werbel, Mrs. Kenneth Hecker and Miss Frances Haas.

Fall Festival Planned At State Street School

State Street PTA is giving its first project, the "M.O.M.S. Fall Festival," Friday at 5 p.m. in the basement of the school.

Cooperating with the State Street PTA are the PTA's from Main, Oak, Mark and Silver Street Schools. The name of the festival is derived from the first letter of the four elementary schools, whose students will attend the State Street School at the junior high level.

Supper will be served in the cafeteria beginning at 5 p.m. Concession booths will be operated by the elementary school PTA's beginning at 5:30 p.m. A bake sale and beauty parlor will be sponsored by Main. Oak is presenting a talent show, while Mark will show movies.

The Silver Street PTA will conduct folk dancing from 8 to 11 p.m. The supper is being arranged by the State Street PTA.

Proceeds from the festival are to be used for an athletic banquet for State Street School football and basketball players, and for a banquet at the end of the year for students going on to senior high school. Tickets for the festival are available at the State Street School, from its students, or at the door. Everyone is welcome to attend.

Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Clifford George, publicity; Mrs. Ray Seas, supper, and Mrs. Alfred Lamb, finances.

In charge of the concessions are Mrs. Floyd VanMeter, Main Street; Mrs. Waldron Phelps, Oak Street; Mrs. George Black, Mark Street, and Mrs. D. B. Strickland, Silver Street.

Style-Buyers Meet in New York

Preview Spring Lines Of Boys' Clothing

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 8—(AP)—Mom has a willing helper today in her endless campaign to make junior look like a little gentleman. In fact, around 200 helpers.

That many exhibitors are showing their spring lines here at the Market Week display of the Boys' Apparel & Accessories Manufacturers Association.

Good grooming and pride in personal appearance is just as essential as academic accomplishments in molding character in a child—that's the way one of the exhibitors, with a conservative junior apparel line, puts it. (What the little gentleman himself thinks about that often is another matter.

Other exhibitors stress "the brightest colors in the world"—or western jeans with a "fused double knee" aimed at the marble-playing set.

All insist, however, that you should buy junior new clothes. Their immediate aim is to impress the host of store buyers who are looking over the lines and ordering—or not ordering—stocks for next spring.

Beyond that, their aim is at parents: at mother, who wants sonny to look at least as good as the boy down the street; at father, who hopes that won't rock him back on his heels when the bills come in.

PRICES OF THE SPRING lines are about the same — some are lower—than last spring. The exhibitors explain that fabric prices are about the same as last year, but labor and other costs are rising, so that large price cuts aren't featured.

Some exhibitors show a marked trend to synthetics and blends with wool—giving price resistance of their customers as the reason.

Buyers are cautious. Many store representatives are frank in saying they'll go slow on ordering, to see how long the present tendency of consumers to hang onto their money will continue.

But others admit that with the big increase in the number of small fry—and with junior's well-known habit of quickly outgrowing his clothes—sales next spring can't be too poor. And several exhibitors say buying is brisker than they had expected.

One buyer, from Little Rock, says frankly, "We learned the hard way we are unable to outguess price structures." In buying for his store, he says, "We shall try not to be influenced by the price of cotton futures at Memphis or by spot wool at Melbourne." In short he'll order conservatively but not try to be oversmart about hoping for price cuts later.

PROMOTION ITEMS are prominently displayed. Like the garrison cap, patterned after the one General Ridgway wears, or like the tartan plaid vest, patterned after the one dad got for Christmas.

But the conservatives are in force, too. One exhibitor insists the trend in boys' garb is away from the Sloppy Joe, popular for some time, and back to the well-styled but casual.

Another, deploring the "misguided sense of carefree attitude" which has led boys to under-dress in fear of being called sissies, lays the blame at the door of both parents and educators. He blames parents for "seeking to save a few dollars" instead of getting their children to dress as young gentlemen.

And he calls upon schools to sponsor style shows for the young as part of their extra curricular activities. Build their character through neat dressing, he says.

BAMA ITSELF HAS A WORD of reassurance for harried parents who can't corral their pride and joy for a trip to the clothing store. Such parents are often at a loss to figure just what would fit him, if he isn't there to try it on. By the fall of 1952, says BAMA, all is to be standardized at last.

No longer will it be a guessing contest based on the young subject's age. A new yardstick has been evolved, based on a height-weight ratio, and blessed by the Department of Commerce, which studied the body measurements of 140,000 boys and girls. Found if you new the height and weight of the child the rest of the body measurements follow in direct proportions.

Infallible garment measurements of each size from two to 22 will be available in boys' clothes made by its 225 member firms by next fall, says BAMA.

Twenty-mile-long icebergs were sighted in 1948 by Australian air reconnaissance in the Antarctic.

Can't Pin Much On General

Eisenhower Has One Political Advantage

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—(AP)—If Gen. Eisenhower runs for president he has one big advantage over anyone who runs against him.

He won't have to apologize for very much he ever said on political, economic or social problems, which are dynamite for most politicians.

And there's a good reason: he's never said—publicly, anyway—enough on any of the three subjects to make voters very mad.

It's easy for the opponents of most men running for office—because they've said so much for so long on so much—to dig back and use their own words against them.

Not so with Eisenhower. While he was in the Army he kept his lip buttoned, which is the wise thing for any Army man to do.

And later, when he became president of Columbia University, you can tell by reading the files how carefully he tried to pick his way.

In fact, those files seem to show Eisenhower as a man who very gingerly dipped his toe in the water before taking a dive.

Safe Subject

His favorite subjects for speeches on domestic problems—while he was at Columbia and before being called back into uniform—seemed to be preserving free enterprise and personal freedom and avoiding centralized government.

They're all pretty safe subjects in this country at this time. Democrats as well as Republicans could vote for a man who said he was against letting any administration in Washington get too much power. No harm in that.

It wasn't original with Eisenhower to be for free enterprise, of course, but since he's for it, no one will quarrel with him among Democrats and Republicans. Anyone who's against it couldn't be elected anyway.

As for freedom for the individual, both Democrats and Republicans have been insisting for years upon the importance of preserving just that. It's one of the main themes in this government's argument against communism.

But even on such subjects as these you can see, in reading the files, that Eisenhower at Columbia, newly out of uniform, sort of felt his way along, getting a little more positive as he got a little more used to repeating the same ideas in speech after speech.

An Internationalist

(In the field of foreign affairs Eisenhower seemed much more emphatic. He is an internationalist. For example, Eisenhower was for arming Europe before Congress voted to do so).

But on one subject—"security"—the general may have felt he pulled a political blooper because, after a couple of speeches in that field, he seemed to drop the subject.

On Sept. 28, 1948 the general made a talk to his students at Columbia, urging them to seek opportunity rather than security.

He said "the best example of perfect security is a man serving a life term in federal prison."

Since the general didn't define what he meant by "security," his statement was vague enough to be mild although it indicated a viewpoint.

It was a viewpoint, of course, with which a lot of voters might disagree, particularly old ones who may have missed their "opportunity" along the way but now in old age want and need security, at least social security.

Draws Fire

It was certainly a much milder statement than the one the general made two months later when he said "If all Americans want is security, they can go to prison, they'll have enough to eat, a bed, and a roof over their heads."

Here again as in speeches on other subjects the general seemed to be progressing from a fairly vague to a more positive statement.

But the reaction to that second statement on security was a little less than wholehearted approval. His own students at Columbia criticized him for it. After that the general had little to say about security.

It's a fairly delicate subject for politicians in a country where most voters are either drawing social security benefits or taking part in the program.

CHORAL SOCIETY TO SING

Plans are being made for the appearance in Marion Sunday night of the Mansfield Choral Society. The group of more than 30 members will sing at Calvary EUB Church at 7 under direction of J. Frederick Wolf. A program of anthems and chorales by master composers, of Negro spiritual arrangements and hymns of modern times will be presented.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

With a feeling that Bess Conway, my father's glamorous FBI operative, had been ignored in our discussion of Mildred Grey's dilemma, I turned to her when Lillian had finished her little diatribe and spoke hurriedly.

"What do you think of this problem, Bess?"

She turned her wide beautiful eyes on me with a diffident look in them.

"I do not think I ought to offer an opinion on a matter so strictly family," she said.

"Nonsense!" I told her vehemently. "You're the cornerstone of this whole thing, and you know what makes this generation tick far better than we do. I want your unbiased opinion, with no regard for anybody's feelings."

"Then," she said, "speaking frankly, I agree with Mr. Underwood's solution, and Mrs. Underwood's endorsement."

With an effort, I let my scruples slide, and smiled at all three of them.

"I am outnumbered, and outargued," I told them, "and I agree to Harry's plan. As soon as Dicky comes back, I'll tell him that Harry wishes to see him, and then, Harry, please take over, and tell him everything that happened while he has been gone, of my father's offer, of his private conference with Mildred, and of your plan for having Dicky brief Bill upon the whole business, before Mildred sees him. That will save me a great deal of conversation. I imagine I shall have a great deal to add to the story when Mildred is through with my father's talk. I am afraid she will be so conscience-ridden about the reaction of Bill and her parents to the plan that it will be very hard to get her to see reason."

"I wouldn't worry too much on that score," Bess Conway put in surprisingly.

I looked at her in amazement.

"Why—what do you mean?" I babbled. I felt there was no other word fitly to describe my speech.

"Simply that Mildred's reaction may surprise you," Bess said. "Of course, I know nothing, but she is far more complex than she seems—and she thinks things out."

But, mercifully, I had no chance to theorize any farther upon her meaning. Dicky's special knock sounded from the hall, and Harry Underwood rose and loped to the door, while I made a valiant effort to pull myself together.

"Hi, fella!" I heard my husband say. "Are you the doorkeeper to this hangout now?"

"I'm the Keeper of the Keys," his friend replied. "Come in. We have news for you."

Dicky smiled at me, nodded to Bess Conway and to Lillian, then put a question.

"Where's Mildred?"

"In the next room, having a conference with Father," I told him. "And will you, please, go directly with Harry down to your room, and listen to him carefully?"

"In other words, Dicky-Bird," Lillian put in, "get out of here, as soon as the good Lord will let you. Scram, Dicky, scram! Harry will give you the low-down.'"

"And," I added, pleadingly, "don't come back into this room until I come for you. Harry will explain everything."

"He'd better," my husband said. "Of all the cock-eyed welcomes for a fellow to get when he returns to his fireside."

His big friend put a compelling hand on his shoulder.

"You don't know the half of it yet," he said. "Come along into the next corral, and I'll feed you the hay."

FOREST STUDENT IS WINNER

Mervyn Curran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Curran, was one of the 98 winners out of over 8,000 who participated recently in the Ohio History, Government and Citizenship contest conducted by the State Department of Education and sponsored by Ohio University. Danger of Under-Cooked Pork

Wherever rare or poorly-cooked pork is eaten, there is danger of trichinosis. So much has been written about the necessity for the thorough cooking of pork, that all should be alert to the seriousness of this disease. Yet, despite all this, it still occurs throughout the world and is particularly prevalent in the United States.

The disease-producing organisms occur in the form of larvae in infected pork flesh. Thorough cooking destroys the larvae, but when partially-cooked meat is eaten, the larvae can cause the disease.

The digestive juices of the small intestine dissolve the capsule that surrounds the larvae. The adult worms released by the digestive juices begin to breed new larvae. These burrow into the intestinal walls, get into the lymphatic vessels, pass through the liver and lungs, and reach the general blood circulation. They then spread all over the body to the muscle tissues.

As a general rule, the muscles of the diaphragm, neck, tongue, eyes and larynx are affected. The body forms cysts around the larvae and the cysts become calcified.

Immediately after infection, the person may become nauseated, have abdominal pain, fever and some severe diarrhea. Intermittent fever, weakness, pains in the muscles, profuse sweating and swelling of the affected muscles may occur. Painful swallowing and trouble in breathing may also develop.

In about three weeks, recovery usually is complete, although the patient may have vague muscle pains and be susceptible to fatigue for many months. Deaths may occur in severe cases.

The diagnosis of trichinosis may be very difficult to make. However, the use of a skin test, in which the extract of the trichinella larvae is injected under the skin, may be helpful.

There is no known treatment for trichinosis. If there are severe stomach symptoms after eating inadequately-cooked pork, it may be suggestive of trichinosis, and the person should be seen by his physician. If all other conditions are eliminated as a possible cause, a good purgative, as prescribed by the physician, may help prevent spread of the disease. The patient should be put to bed, at complete rest, during a severe attack; the use of calcium injections may relieve some of the pain.

The best treatment is the prevention of this disease by eating only pork which has been well cooked.

Questions and Answers

G. N.: I am 25 years old and my breasts have never developed. Is it true that sex hormones can be given for this and are they harmful in any way?

Answer: Sex hormones may be of some help in promoting the growth of breasts. However, this treatment should be carried out only under your physician's care. It should not be harmful if done in this manner.

Wooster Lady Loses Ugly Fat, 32 Lbs. Disappear

"I have used Rennel Concentrate for a short time, and have found it to be everything that is said for it," writes Mrs. Ralph E. Roberts, R.F.D. 4, Wooster, Ohio. "I am 36 years of age, and since I started taking Rennel I have lost 32 lbs. I feel much better than I did before and would recommend Rennel to anyone who is overweight."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel.

We have just finished assessing the results of the local elections around the country and it is obvious that a number of (worthless) (splendid) candidates were elected.

The trend this year was definitely (Republican) (Democrat) (from hunger) and the electorate is to be (congratulated) (pitied) (psycho-analyzed).

Final results indicate that the Republicans will sweep the country in the presidential elections of (1952) (1956) (1960) (sometime) provided the Democrats do not carry their winning streak to (1952) (eternity).

The election showed that an aroused voter can be (led) (persuaded) (forced) (bought) to demand a (change) (continuation) of government to fit his needs.

If next year's candidates have learned anything from this year's results it is that the voter wants (truth) (bunk) (promises) (money) (favors) (pie in the sky) (a new head) and it would be well to give it (them) to him.

* * *

Anyone will agree that this is an (accurate) (overdrawn) (underdrawn) appraisal.

2 Accidents Occur In Upper Area

Two minor traffic accidents in the Upper Sandusky area yesterday were reported by the highway patrol.

A car driven by Robert Shetterly of Tiffin struck a concrete post four miles north of Upper Sandusky on Highway 53 about 1 a.m. Front end of the vehicle was demolished. The driver was not hurt.

The other accident happened at the intersection of Walpole St. and Wyandot Ave. in Upper Sandusky at 8:35 a.m. Driving the pickup trucks involved were Ray F. Bricely, 43, of near Upper Sandusky and Howard D. Roszman, 20, of near Carey. Bricely suffered a head bruise. Slight damage resulted to the Bricely truck's front end and to the right front fender of the other vehicle.

SAINTS ROBBED

OGDEN— (UP) — Members of the Latter-day Saints Church have their own candidate for "meanest thief." An estimated $800 in cash and checks, representing tithing and church fast offerings, was stolen recently from the home of Bishop R. D. Wardle.

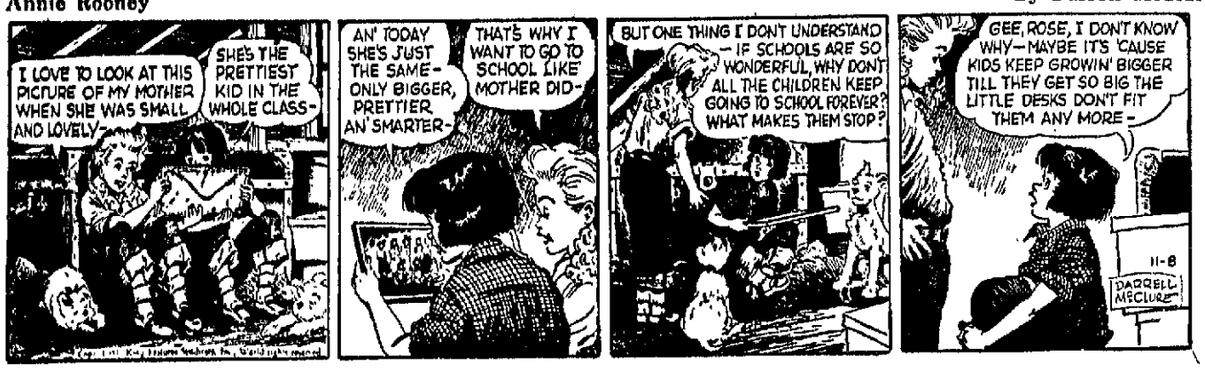
Annie Rooney — By Darrell McClure



I LOVE TO LOOK AT THIS PICTURE OF MY MOTHER WHEN SHE WAS SMALL AND LOVELY—
SHE'S THE PRETTIEST KID IN THE WHOLE CLASS—
AN' TODAY SHE'S JUST THE SAME—ONLY BIGGER, PRETTIER AN' SMARTER—
THAT'S WHY I WANT TO GO TO SCHOOL LIKE MOTHER DID—
BUT ONE THING I DON'T UNDERSTAND — IF SCHOOLS ARE SO WONDERFUL, WHY DON'T ALL THE CHILDREN KEEP GOING TO SCHOOL FOREVER? WHAT MAKES THEM STOP?
GEE, ROSE, I DON'T KNOW WHY—MAYBE IT'S 'CAUSE KIDS KEEP GROWIN' BIGGER TILL THEY GET SO BIG THE LITTLE DESKS DON'T FIT THEM ANY MORE—

Steve Canyon — By Milton Caniff

DELTA, I CAN'T GET IT OFF MY MIND THAT CANYON WON'T BRING CHARGES AGAINST ME FOR STRIKING HIM!
I KNOW, SAM— YOU'RE EMBARRASSED BECAUSE IT GIVES HIM SOMETHING TO HOLD OVER YOUR HEAD!
OF COURSE I'LL TELL THE GENERAL ALL ABOUT IT IN MY REPORT...
OF COURSE, SAM!..YOU'LL HAVE TO DO THAT...
—BUT IF STEVE CANYON HASN'T BROUGHT CHARGES IT WILL MAKE A LIAR OUT OF HIM... AND PUT A BLOT ON THE RECORD OF A MAN WHO TRIED TO DO YOU A FAVOR...
IT WAS FUN BEING THE BOSS COLONEL'S WIFE, BUT I'LL EVENTUALLY GET USED TO THE COME-DOWN!

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Very Wet Wall

Q: Our house is an old brick that has been remodeled with wood. On one side of the house where there is no basement the entire wall, up to two feet from the floor, gets wet and soaks clear through on the wallpaper, leaving it soaking wet everytime it rains. It is also so very damp in the room and it ruins any new wallpaper I might put on. Have you any suggestions.

A: If the wall is wet only when it rains, then the condition is probably due to leakage. There may be open places around the framework of the windows on the outside, which could be filled with caulking compound, forced in with a caulking gun. Door frames could be treated in the same way as well as other leaky places up under the roof. If the walls are wet at other times, the condition may be due to condensation of the warm, humid house air against the cold surfaces of the walls. The lack of a good basement would be responsible for chilling and dampening the walls up from the baseboard. If you do not wish to lay a good concrete floor in the basement, you could insulate the under side of the flooring and pack all cracks at the top of the foundation walls with oakum and caulking compound. Cracks around baseboards can be filled with putty. If the wall plaster was applied directly on the brickwork of the outer walls, you could fur out the walls for two inches and replaster over lath, or else put up a wallboard on furring strips. The underfloor can be insulated by nailing up heavy blanket or batt type insulation with the vapor barrier paper facing upward. Then cover everything with heavy tar paper.

Wall Linoleum Over Wainscot?

Q: I am planning to remodel my kitchen. The lower half is wainscot. I would like to replace the wainscot with wall linoleum. Shall I remove the wainscot or can the linoleum be placed over it?

A: The general preference is to remove the wood wainscoting and put up a gypsum wallboard (plasterboard) as the base for linoleum wall coverings.

Official Vote Tally Starts

Marion Co. Board Starts Checkup

The official tally of votes at Tuesday's election was started today by the Marion County Board of Elections.

A board spokesman said no large errors had been found in the totals announced yesterday. The count probably will not be completed until next Wednesday, he added.

The board also announced that payrolls for election workers had been completed and may now be picked up. The board workers, tabulators and janitors may pick up their checks by calling at the office of Marion E. Hinklin, Marion County treasurer.

The spokesman paid a tribute to workers at polling places throughout the county. He said they performed a "wonderful" job Tuesday. A mixture of snow, sleet and rain hampered work at polling places all day and a power failure Tuesday evening forced much of the work to be completed with candles and other make-shift lighting arrangements.

Boy Playing Santa Stuck in Chimney

SANTA CLARA, Calif., Nov. 8—(AP)—Thoughts of Christmas started Jackie Cambra, six, on a test run.

He climbed the trellis of his home here, crossed the roof, clambered into the fireplace chimney, and started down. He got stuck.

It required the combined efforts of his mother, several neighbors, and the fire department to pull him the rest of the way down—sooty and quite doubtful about impending events.

CLEVELAND STRIKE ENDS

CLEVELAND, Nov. 8—(AP)—A two-week strike of 600 AFL-United Automobile workers at the Allyne-Ryan Foundry Co. has been settled with agreement on a five-cent hourly pay increase. On Jan. 1, the workers will start receiving an additional four cents hourly.

World-Wide Cease-Fire

THE United States, Great Britain and France are willing to call off the arms race, which surprises no one. The gist of their joint declaration and the more detailed statement made Wednesday night by President Truman is that the Kremlin is being given one more chance to make peace. This is a proposal for a world-wide cease-fire.

If it rejects this offer to substitute stability for continuation of an arms buildup and the prospect of war, the burden of blame, if war comes, must rest on it. There is nothing else left now for other nations to do. They must defend themselves.

This is not a proposal for disarmament but a proposal for a stabilization of armament which will fall within the means of the populations whose productive enterprise makes armament possible. One vital reservation is made—that before any such plan could be put into effect the war in Korea would have to stop. Obviously, if a new war then were to break out somewhere else there would be a sudden end of stabilization.

There are no unreasonable requirements in the proposal, though the Soviet Union hardly could be expected to accept international inspection of its armed forces. It is the kind of proposal which will make sense to millions who did not want World War II and do not want World War III. From that standpoint the proposal is so eminently reasonable that it probably never will be heard of in the places where it would have the greatest impact—in the Soviet Union and its satellite states where Communist propaganda follows the line that only Russia loves peace but is being bullied by bloodthirsty empire builders from the U.S.A.

Is There a Limit?

A PRELIMINARY estimate of 60 items for the agenda of the sixth session of the United Nations General Assembly, with some 20 more as possible additions, suggests the scope of this organization's work.

It suggests at the same time that there must be a limit set on the General Assembly's choices. Otherwise, its attempts to tackle too much could give a black eye. Nothing would be more hurtful to hopes of international cooperation than to force a premature conclusion that men are not smart enough to achieve that kind of cooperation.

In the United States, that always has been one of the threats hanging over government—that Washington ultimately might become so bogged down in a multitude of problems that it could do justice to none of the problems.

The U.N. General Assembly, with 60 or more problems like human rights, land reform, cartels, the progress of dependent peoples and the control of armaments awaiting its consideration, makes some of Washington's problems seem comparatively picayunish.

Say It Again, Red

THE voice of a Galloping Ghost has been raised in the land. Red Grange, who made the University of Illinois and Bob Zuppke famous, fails to see anything wrong with football. "There may be some overenthusiasm," he admits—then hastens to add that he wishes it had started 25 years ago when he was the game's greatest star.

Grange has many friends for this point of view—all the millions who turn out for football games because they love football—all the thousands who would rather see football than eat—and the hundreds who play football so they can eat. Those who have been carping at football for its shortcomings have been getting more attention lately than they deserve.

If some had their way, football would be given a black eye. So would basketball. So would baseball. Everything would be given a black eye, except the great pastime of carping. "There's nothing wrong with football," says Red Grange, who has nothing to carp about. Say it again, Red.

It Can Be Done

ONE of the first gestures of good faith made by Winston Churchill when he set up a new cabinet in England was to cut the salaries of all His Majesty's ministers.

This was in recognition of the fact that the British treasury is bare and that without the strictest conservation of funds there will be a violent crisis.

One of the government's next moves was to cut down on the free use of government transportation by jobholders. Cabinet members must use automobiles from a car pool, instead of having their own, as they do in the United States. Even this prerogative of officeholding is going to be pruned back severely. Another prerogative—the use of official cars by cabinet members' wives on payment of a nominal charge—is being curtailed.

These are typical of the things which the new government is willing to do to prove it is interested in saving money. They are of no great importance, in view of Britain's desperate financial plight. But they are encouraging, in a small way. They prove that even government can miss the water when the well finally runs dry, though by that time it's too late.

Eisenhower and Politics

By David Lawrence

Seen as a Potential but Not Active Candidate

WASHINGTON

HE CAME, he talked, and he left the situation exactly where it was before he arrived—that is, Gen. Eisenhower remains a potential but not an active candidate for the presidency.

In the parlance of politics, in the tradition of public utterance in campaign years, there was one way that Gen. Eisenhower could have eliminated himself completely from consideration—he could have said that he would not accept the presidential nomination from either political party. He didn't say so.

LAWRENCE

But the general, with a frankness that was disarming, managed to leave with the political world following impressions:

1. There will be no authorization of any boom or political activity so long as the general is in uniform.

2. There is not to be the slightest discouragement of those citizens who want to boom the general for either presidential nomination.

3. At the "proper time" may never come if the general has to stay in Europe For he has also said he would make no political statements while in his present post.

5. No definite date has been set for the relinquishment by Gen Eisenhower of his command but he points out it was originally set for a relatively brief period. He does not share the view that he is indispensable, which is only another way of saying that he feels he ought to be relieved in the not-far-distant future.

THERE'S ANOTHER impression which can be derived from the atmosphere of friendliness which enveloped President Truman's conference with Gen. Eisenhower and the nature of the statements made afterwards. It is that President Truman does not seem to mind the political speculation that surrounds Gen Eisenhower at the moment even though the latter is engaged in military service of the highest importance. One can well imagine under other circumstances the President reaching into his vocabulary of enunciatory phrases to derate those who attempt at a critical moment in his tory to undermine confidence in a great general by attributing to him political motives and so on.

Actually the possibility of Gen Eisenhower being boomed for president on the Republican ticket is not unwelcome to Mr. Truman if its puts a damper on the trend toward Taft So long as the newspapers keep on talking about Eisenhower, while such Republican leaders as Gov. Dewey and Sen. Duff and others talk openly of their intention to support the general at the Republican national convention, it makes for friction and maybe a split inside the Republican party — which doesn't annoy Mr. Truman at all.

THERE IS EVEN the possibility that Mr. Truman showed marked cordiality to the general and tolerated all the political speculation that surrounded the visit because the President, for all he knows, may be urging the general next summer to run on the Democratic ticket if the Republicans pass him up at their convention.

Gen. Eisenhower has managed with tact and good taste to ward off embarrassing questions and yet has managed to let everybody know that he could be persuaded to run for the presidency He didn't say why, but anyone who is trying to consolidate Europe every day is likely to have more than an incidental interest in how earnest any possible candidate for the presidency might be in furthering that cause. It could be that Gen Eisenhower may consider it his duty to run on a platform of international cooperation that goes beyond anything Sen. Taft might be willing to accept.

Anyway, Gen. Eisenhower is still in politics no matter how much he sincerely tries to postpone the day of decision as to an authorized candidacy.

Squaw Winter

By TRUMAN TWILL

IT HAS been snowing. That is squaw winter When it's over, we shall have Indian summer, maybe two weeks of it, then real winter will close in for the big freeze.

Only one tree at the Twilley still holds its leaves—the sweet cherry in the front yard. The oaks gave up this year without a struggle. The meadow is losing its green—or is it daylight which is turning pale and watery? .

The chickens, which had run wild since last spring, are moping in the corners of the barn They look worried because they are still moulting and may not grow new feathers in time for comfort.

The little pheasants which darted through the cornfields and underbrush late in the summer now are strutting cock birds and clucking hens whose unexpected flight makes a startled observer think of the first time he saw a heavy bomber take off and couldn't believe his own eyes.

The fence corners, filled with shaggy disorder all last summer and with bright goldenrod and wild asters in the fall, are being neatened up by Jack Frost with the aid of wind and water. Gradually, everything which was hidden by the lush growth of summer is coming back into view—rocks, rubbish and tools mislaid and never found again.

The eating day of the sheep, which stretched beyond 16 hours in midsummer, has shortened to less than 10 and the time is not far distant when the flock will have nothing to do but stand in a snug barn and munch hay while the sun creeps back to the north.

A few crimson apples are clinging stubbornly to the bare branches which mothered them. The hardy chrysanthemums make a bright burst of color beyond the hedge. But winter has almost painted its gray monochrome, only the finishing touches remain to be applied.

The goat has been freshly upholstered in multiple layers of coarse hair against probing winds and falling temperatures At midday the disgruntled chirp of a robin detained by circumstances beyond his control is distinguishable through the hoarse chatter of the jays and the sweet notes of a song sparrow. But this is the time of the deep hush in nature. From early dusk until late dawn there is a brooding silence that wraps itself closely about the affairs of nature and stimulates meditation.

If it ever happens, as the scientists say it must happen some time, that Earth turns cold and slows down, it will be like this Except that it then will keep getting colder, until, finally there is no one left to care whether there ever again will be apple blossoms, white lambs, little chickens and lovers walking hand in hand through paradise.

Misuse of The Fifth Amendment

By George E. Sokolsky

PROFESSOR HENRY STEELE COMMAGER of Columbia University once wrote:

"Certainly it is a gross perversion not only of the concept of loyalty but of the concept of Americanism to identify it with a particular economic system . . ."

This is undoubtedly true but it is unimportant. I do not believe that any question of an "economic system" is involved in the contest which is being waged in this country against the Communists, against subversive or corrupt persons Certainly when a protest is made against a thieving tax collector, the issue is not whether he is a capitalist or a socialist, a Republican or a Democrat. The point is that we are shocked by the fact that thieves have worked their way into government. We challenge them as thieves.

SOKOLSKY

So Communists are not opposed because they believe in government ownership of the means of production, distribution and exchange but because they are agents, spies, provocateurs for an alien power, for a government that uses propaganda, infiltration and corruption as a means of military conquest.

* * *

THOSE, THEREFORE, who use the Fifth Amendment, which they have a legal right to use, to avoid giving information concerning this conspiracy are morally guilty of aiding those who would destroy this country

Here is a definite conflict between a legal right and a moral responsibility. Which shall prevail?

The Fifth Amendment provides:

"No person shall be held to answer for a capital, or otherwise infamous crime, unless on a presentment or indictment of a grand jury, except in cases arising in the land or naval forces, or in the militia, when in actual service in time of war or public danger; nor shall be compelled in any for the same offense to be twice put in jeopardy of life or limb; nor hsall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself, nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law, nor shall private property be taken for public use, without just compensation."

Those who, in Communist cases, claim immunity from questioning under the terms of the Fifth Amendment do so under the words, "Nor shall be compelled in any criminal case to be a witness against himself."

ACTUALLY, it is no crime in the United States to be a Communist but it is illegal to engage in a conspiracy to destroy our government. It is not illegal to oppose the capitalist system but it is illegal to be a spy.

A congressional committee is not a court of law and does not try cases, but the information gathered by such a committee may be used by prosecuting officials to obtain an indictment for a crime. While it is not possible to claim double jeopardy in connection with a congressional committee, it is possible to claim self-incrimination.

Although no one is to be adjudged guilty of anything because he has been subpenaed by a congressional committee or questioned by it, it is reasonable to assume that if a witness claims the immunities of the Fifth amendment, he knows that he has done something which could be self-incriminating. In a word, he admits moral guilt where no legal charge has yet been made

This right that no person may be required to incriminate himself is strictly personal. No one may plead that the provision of information will incriminate a third person. Therefore, those witnesses before congressional committees who refuse to name others are wrong when they claim immunity under the Fifth Amendment unless they have conspired with these others to commit a crime. In effect, when they make such a plea they establish the existence of a conspiracy to which the pleader has been a party.

WHAT IT COMES down to is this: While a witness may invoke the Fifth Amendment as a justification for silence, you and I are entitled to assume that he does it because, in his own judgment, he had committed an infamous crime. So far as public opinion is concerned, he places himself in the awkward position of confessing to participation in improper, even in illegal actions, in spite of the fact that public officials may not know of or may not be able to prove his guilt

Lawyers who advise clients not dependent upon public opinion to claim immunity under the Fifth Amendment may be sound. When they so advise motion picture, television, or radio folks or public officials, like tax collectors, to do likewise, they risk their clients' future because public censure is inevitable. The Fifth Amendment is wrecking careers.

Counterattack on South

By Raymond Moley

AT THE Southern Governors' Conference at Hot S... Ark., on Nov. 11-13, there will, no doubt, be plenty of talk on and off the record to indicate southern political sentiment toward the Truman Fair Deal. Leading up to this have been Senator Byrd's speeches in Georgia and Alabama and Governor Byrnes' statements last month at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and his recent speech in South Carolina. The battle lines seem to be forming.

Already there are counter-attacks from the left wing by Jonathan Daniels, Democratic national committeeman from South Carolina, and Hubert Humphrey, senator from Minnesota.

MOLEY

Daniels has set himself up as the authentic Trumanite in his book, "Man of Independence," in a magazine article, and in his early declaration for Truman in 1952. His attack on Byrnes follows the true machine line. Byrnes, he says, has received many high honors from the Democratic party. For this, he infers, Byrnes should be truly grateful, obedient, and regular. That is the machine line. When a job is given, you must pay for life, forsaking all others—in this case, Byrnes' native state, its sentiments, his own convictions about the nation's welfare. Nothing but the job counts.

THE SOUTH, Daniels goes on, has received great benefits from the Democratic party. Hence, it must be regular for all those blessings. The South will know that its progress has been due to its own efforts, its resources, and its own statesmanship. Benefits are given not by a political machine, but from the national wealth Daniels' talk suggests that the Democratic party is something apart from the South—a Santa Claus filling the stockings of its children.

As to the "ingratitude" of Byrnes, I happen to know more of how he attained his honors than does Daniels, for I was close to the situation long before Daniels. Byrnes was elected to the Senate by his own personal efforts, after long and able service in the House. He was elected long before Roosevelt's presidency and before the New Deal was born. No one did more for Roosevelt in the campaign for president. At my request Byrnes spent weeks with Roosevelt, the candidate, and gave tireless service.

FOR EIGHT YEARS Byrnes was the most effective aid that Roosevelt, the president, had in the Senate. He labored constantly and effectively to get Roosevelt's measures enacted. The senators knew this. He was respected by both parties there. If a poll had been taken of Democratic senators, he would have succeeded John N. Garner as vice president in 1940. But the president wanted Wallace, and Byrnes buried his ambition and stepped aside.

To reward his services and please the Senate, he was appointed to the Supreme Court. A year later, the president induced him to leave the court to serve the country in war in the impossible and thankless job of economic stabilizer.

In 1944 Byrnes wanted and deserved the vice presidency. He was assured by Roosevelt that he could have it. He would have

Daily Bible Thought

If we are looking only a few score of years ahead at most we miss the vast panorama of eternity. There is where our future lies. Consider that in your program: "And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life."—1 John 2:24-25.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

As It May Have Happened

Harry—General, I thought it time we had a little chat purely about Europe and we will leave everything else out, Heaven forbid!

Ike—At your service, sir.

Harry—Let's keep this on military matters, no matter how far we stray from the subject. All I want is to get the European picture clear, and you needn't mention Duff or Dewey unless you wish to.

Ike—Thanks. For a moment I was afraid politics might creep into this.

Harry—No. Let's continue to talk exclusively of the world crisis unless, of course, we both discuss what we are really thinking about. Are the French doing much?

Ike—I think so, but would like to see them do more. I hear the Blue Room is all done over.

Harry—I wish the British were in better shape. Yes, and three new elevators and a modern kitchen have been put in. It will make the White House much more inhabitable, don't you think?

Ike—I haven't given the habitability of the White House a thought . . . what am I SAYING!!!

Harry—I'm serving turtle soup instead of chowder at this luncheon. I don't like things that "clam up" on me, so to speak.

Ike—I love turtle soup, and turtles too . . . It fascinates me the way they can pull their necks inside a protective shell in a tough spot. The chef certainly put his best into this soup.

Harry—Yes, he holds nothing back . . . get it? . . . holds nothing back.

Ike—Oh, I upset my coffee! So sorry.

Harry—That's okay. I want you to SPILL everything at this luncheon Some hint, eh?

Ike (a little later)—This chicken is very fine, too.

Harry—Got it from a wonderful butcher named Ring . . . First name is Hatton . . . Hatton Ring . . . does it suggest anything to you?

Ike—No. May I have some potato?

Harry—Certainly The service is not too good. Waiters are very slow. They won't run . . . get it? . . . WON'T RUN. . . . Does that open a new line for discussion?

Ike—Relax, and lets talk about Russia, the Atlantic Pact, European rearmament, SHAPE and what have you done to the Lincoln room?

Harry—The Lincoln room has been changed so you will never know it . . . and I ain't kiddin!

* * *

Ike—Well, thanks for a candid little talk, Harry, and for keeping my candidacy out of it.

Harry—In a world crisis overshadowing politics I wouldn't think of asking you if you would take the nomination.

Ike—And I wouldn't think of answering a question you wouldn't ask. My only desire is to answer the call of duty.

Harry—But do you hear voices?

Ike—I will give you a definite answer: forward for a stronger Europe! And thank goodness we kept off politics.

CRY of the horse players "A horse parlor, a horse parlor, my kingdom for a licensed bookie!"... The new Winter Garden musical, "Top Banana," is a big hit but could be much funnier. It avoids almost all the phases of video that are most open to burlesque in the way Kauffman and Hart burlesqued the early movies. . . . Chrysler earnings dropped 50 per cent for the first nine months on record income. Nothing is so alarming just now as capacity business. . . . You can start on a shoestring today and wind up without even the hole. . . . Either Jimmy Durante's writers are off form or Jimmy is discarding their stuff. Those graduation and upper berth routines on video were pretty sad stuff. . . . Things we never knew until we read "Show Biz"—Walter Pidgeon was in a musical "Puzzles of 1925" in that year as a baritone singer. . . . Oscar Levant was playing the piano for Ben Bernie at the Rialto, Milton Berle was in the No. 2 spot at Loew's State and Mary Hay was in a team with Clifton Webb. . . . In 1928 Bing Crosby was one of the "Three Rhythm Boys" at the Palace and in 1929 Variety was reviewing among the "new acts" a comedian at Proctor's 86th Street theater by the name of Robert Hope. . . . There was a Quo Vadis in movies in 1912 and one of the first cowboys of the screen was Broncho Billy who was really Max Aronson of the Bronx. . . . Safety pads for the floors of all boxing clubs have been ordered. . . . Where they really need 'em is in Hollywood night clubs. . . . "Barefoot In Athens" is stimulating but need socks, not shoes. . . . South Pacific has opened in London and the fight to get seats to it may upset another British government. . . . Nothing startles us in the new tax situation more than the presence of flivvers up around the $2,000 price level. Remember away back when they sold for around $600?

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Saturday, Nov. 8, 1941.

Berlin, raid-free since Sept. 20, was bombed for hours in perhaps the RAF's heaviest offensive as mammoth new bombers stormed the continent from Norway to France while raiders in a synchronized assault from bases in Africa pounded southern-most Italy.

The two-day annual fall conference of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the department of Ohio, and the Auxiliary, was opened at Hotel Harding, with registration followed by a business session and a luncheon at noon. More than 1,500 veterans and auxiliary members were expected.

Sons were born at City Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John Schwinger of 138 Boone ve., and to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jolliff of 807 Merkle Ave.

Marion Harding took undisputed first place in the North Central Ohio grid race by beating Shelby 19-0, while Ashland was knocking off Mt. Vernon's previously unbeaten team. The Presidents also held on to their unscored-on status.

Social Affairs

WHEN MEMBERS OF the Searchlight Club entertained with their annual guest party Monday evening, the setting was the attractive rooms at the Women's Club Home. Mrs. William Martin, president, extended a welcome, gave a brief history of the club and spoke briefly on its future aims. Mrs. William Travis gave the devotions on the theme, "What Is Thankfulness?" and using the 100th Psalm.

To open the program Mrs. George Griffiths, soprano, accompanied by Mrs. Harry T. Williams, sang "Into the Night" and "Two Magicians." Mrs. Walter E. Hane, president of the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs, brought greetings from the Federation and also welcomed the guest speaker, Mrs. Vernon Bosh. Mrs. Bosh, a German war bride, gave an interesting talk on her life in Bremen and told of her experiences during World War II.

During the social hour refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums, a gift of Mrs. E. E. Glosser, and associate member. Favors were nosegays of bittersweet and wintergreen. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Martin and Miss Olive Gurley, program chairman.

Guests included Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Bosh, Mrs. Johanna Brandhorst of Bremen, Germany, mother of Mrs. Bosh, Mrs. Hazel Hensel, Miss Gertrdue Carleton, Mrs. Florence Lantzer, Mrs. Alice Gurley, Mrs. Lydia Baldwin, Mrs. L. A. Wood, Mrs. Richard Slack, Mrs. Floyd Brown, Mrs. Herman Greenbaum, Mrs. Frank Harrold, Mrs. Bushford Porter, Mrs. Dora Jones, Mrs. H. Herbert and Mrs. W. N. Harder.

Miss Olive Gurley was in charge of the program and for the social hour the hostesses were Miss Fahey Jones, chairman of the executive committee, Mrs William Travis and Mrs. Robert McMahan.

Mrs. Cecil Davis, a Marion music instructor, presented a group of her pupils in a piano recital Sunday afternoon in the chapel at Chapel Heights Memory Gardens. Approximately 100 parents and friends of the boys and girls were present. Solos and duet numbers made up the program.

Those taking part were Linda Weston, Carole Sharp, Shirley Johnston, Carol Danner, Gene Greer, Judy Campbell, Nancy Lou Tower, Dolores Selter, Ruth Ann Carey, Carolyn Fox, Arlan Hedges, Judy Dickson, Norma Harper, Billy Carey, Carol Probst, Susan Eicher, Larry Eblin, Ruth Bosley, Vera Moderwell, Larry Moore, Joan Johnson, Mary Young, Shirley Neff and Sharon Elbin.

The thought for meditation on the theme, "Appreciation," opened the meeting when the Delphian Club met Monday afternoon at the Federation Home.

Mrs. U. E. Hootman, chairman of the citizenship committee, introduced Mrs. H. K. Mouser who gave a talk on the Marion League of Women Voters, urging all club members to become members of the league. A sale of articles made by the blind was conducted by Mrs. H. M. Hart, and Mrs. W. C. Wheeler, president, announced that packages for the "Christmas on the High Seas" project of the Red Cross now are due at the Red Cross office. Mrs. D. D. McQuate, chairman of the club art committee, reminded members of the display of works of art arranged in the various rooms of the Federation Home, to which members of the club had contributed.

For the program, Mrs. Frank Detwiler presented the biography of Herbert Hoover. The next meeting will be Nov. 19.

Following the Harding Homecoming celebration and dance at Club Co-Ed last Friday night, a slumber party was given by Misses Jill Pluchel and Sue Kochensperger at the latter's home on Blaine Ave. Assisting the hostesses were their mothers and grandmother, Mrs. Dorothy Cass, Mrs. Verna Kochensperger and Mrs. Genevieve Dorfe.

A buffet lunch was served from a table centered with an arrangement of yellow and white mums and lighted yellow tapers.

Those present were Misses Joan Clark and Pat Burgard of Manchester College, Ill., Marilyn Bachman, Phyllis Huffman, Gail Carey and Nancy Harris of Ohio Wesleyan University, Dorothy Hollensen and Joanna Jacobs of Capital University, Joyce Parr of Office Training School in Columbus, Peggy McWilliams of the Cleveland School of Nursing, Nancy Gilmore and Sue Malloy of St. Vincent's School of Nursing in Toledo, Jane Leffler of Marion, Pat Montgomery, Marlene Birkbeck, Jill Pluchel and Sue Kochensperger of Bowling Green University.

Mrs. Milo Gast of Prospect was hostess when the All Arts Club met Monday evening. For roll call the members named their treasured pieces of glassware. Mrs. Nathan Rickey read a story of a stained glass window in a great cathedral and for the program Mrs. Harry Lauer presented the subject, "European and American Glass," and Mrs. Rickey gave a paper, "Hobbies and Collections in Glass." Mrs. Harold Osborn, music chairman, presented Mrs. Harry Lauer and Mrs. Paul Kyle who played a duet, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The duo also closed the program with a duet, "Dance of the Goblins." Mrs. Kyle was in charge of a business session and announced a white elephant sale to be held at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Emory Roberts. A contribution was made to the penny art fund and two dollars voted to the Pan American Fellowship Fund. Mrs. Lauer was in charge of the program. In keeping with the program theme the members brought choice pieces of glassware for a display. The hostess, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Anthony Strasser, Mrs. Eugene Kimmel and Mrs. E. E. Wottring, served refreshments.

N.O.C. Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Rose Alice Rowland of Big Island. Mrs. Alberta Brothers was awarded the special prize. Prizes in cootie went to Mrs. Dorothy Haubert, Mrs. Gladys Frost and Mrs. Brothers. A bake sale will be held at the next meeting, Nov. 16, at the home of Mrs. Ruth Rowland of West Fairground St.

Mrs. Clare W. Smith was hostess for a recent meeting of the Round Table Club, at the Women's Club Home. In keeping with the club's study topic, "The Last Fifty Years," Mrs. F. L. Thomas reviewed "All Quiet on the Western Front." Plans were completed for sponsoring a box in the Red Cross project, Christmas on the High Seas, which provides gifts for men in the armed forces.

A dinner at the home of Sgt. Glenn S. Gibson and Mrs. Gibson of Avondale Ave. Sunday, was in honor of the birthday anniversary of Sgt. Gibson who recently returned from a 30-month tour of duty with the Army in Alaska. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Chalmer Gibson and sons Buzzy, Garry and Ronnie of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gibson of near Marion; Mr. and Mrs. John Bird and son Johnnie of Waldo; Mrs. Marie Collins and Charles Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wyatt of Waldo were guests in the evening. Sgt. Gibson will report later at Fort Knox, Ky.

Announcement was made of the initiation of a class of candidates at the next meeting Nov. 19.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

MONEY TALKS . . . fashion sense.

Coin jewelry is making a comeback. Money is going on the style standard.

One of the chief spokesmen for the costume jewelry industry reported today that dangling coins will be used to make the smartest winter bracelets, necklaces and earrings. The more coins that can be clumped into one jewel whimsey, the more fashionable.

The designer for Sperry Jewelry, a leader in the "change-for-chic" movement, says that authentic English and Mexican coins have been plated to given them a non-tarnishable finish in gold or silver. They're dangled from heavy link chains.

Unusually enough, some of the penny jewelry costs more than the silver-dollar variety.

County PMA Convention Set for Dec. 4

Production and marketing community chairmen and delegates to the county convention are being elected this month in Marion County, it was reported today by county chairman Frank G. Montgomery.

More than 1,700 ballots have been mailed to participating farmers. From each township will be elected five committeemen and a delegate and alternate to the county convention.

Date of the convention has been set for Dec. 4 at the county office, time 2:30 p.m., Mr. Montgomery said.

Members will be selected from a list of 10 nominated recently in each township.

Deadline for voting is November 26. Any eligible farmer, owner or tenant who did not receive a ballot may call at the county PMA office, 194 S. State St. and vote prior to that date, Mr. Montgomery announced.

Delegates meeting on Dec. 4 will elect the county committee which consists of three members and two alternates. Presently serving in addition to Mr. Montgomery are Emmet Trout and Earl Drake.

State To Fix Bellevue Street, "Worst Road in Nation"

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8—(AP)—"The worst road in the nation"—that's how Bellevue's Main St.—U. S. Route 20 to you—was described in a national magazine not long ago.

An axle-wrenchin', bumper-thumpin' stretch of chuck-holes, it was, neither fit for your ultra-matic sedan nor 1930 gas-buggy.

But note the "was," please.

The State Highway Department said today Bellevue's Main St. has been given highest priority for a re-vamping job that likely will begin next April.

Battered paving will be fixed, the street'll be widened, and what once was a 1.96 mile obstacle course likely will be no more.

Wanted To Save Trees

Ohio has wanted to fix the street for many months. But some Bellevue residents howled "spare that tree!"

The state wanted to widen Main St. from its present 40 feet to 68 feet in some places, and 56 feet in others. It was, and is, bound to cost this quiet town of 6,147 a few shade trees.

The state was adamant, however. To get federal aid for the project, the thoroughfare had to be widened.

So Bellevue citizens voted 1,124 to 747 Tuesday to approve the state's construction plans. They previously had been okayed by city council, but the issue was carried to a referendum.

Fixing "the worst road in the nation" will cost the state and federal governments about $750,000, and the city only about $36,000.

All in all, the project will extend from the west corporation limit of Bellevue 1.96 miles to a point 1,500 feet east of the city.

A highway department spokesman said negotiations for purchase of the widened right-of-way will be started immediately. If Bellevue citizens cooperate, he said, that phase can be finished in about 45 days.

The project likely will be advertised for bids in January so actual construction can begin as soon as the weather breaks in the spring.

Professor of Crime Detection Jailed on Burglary Charge

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Nov. 8—(AP)—Dr. Gwynne Nettler, 38, sociology professor who teaches a class on crime detection, is in jail today charged with burglarizing homes here and in nearby Montecito.

The athletic, handsome bachelor also is accused of carrying a pistol concealed in his car.

Nettler, unofficially known as the "best-dressed prof" on the Santa Barbara College campus, was arrested yesterday on a tip from a woman. Officers said she told them he had mistreated her, but did not elaborate.

One of the sociology professor's classes is on methods of crime detection. In a recent lecture he said, "almost every person commits several crimes each week," and blamed "social disintegration" for the prevalance of criminal tendencies.

Sheriff John Ross said the unidentified woman sent him a sealed envelope months ago, with instructions to open it if anything happened to her. Then Tuesday she telephoned him to open the letter. Inside, said Ross, was a detailed statement of how four burglaries were committed, signed with Nettler's name.

Nettler denied the charges and denied signing the letter.

"One of the hard jobs in being a professional sociologist," he once told a reporter, "is that lots of people don't understand what we are up to."

Sheriff Shoots Two Prisoners

4 Investigations Under Way in Florida

EUSTIS, Fla., Nov. 8—(AP)—Four separate investigations were pointed today toward this little mid-Florida town following the shooting of two Negroes.

The pair had been granted a new trial after receiving death sentences for the rape of a young white farm wife.

Samuel Shepherd, 23, was killed, and his companion, Walter Lee Irvin, also 23, was seriously wounded Tuesday night by Sheriff Willis B. McCall of Lake County.

McCall, who said he acted in self defense, is confined in a hospital here. Doctors said he was suffering with shock.

Investigations were under way by the Justice Department, the Lake County grand jury, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and by Gov. Fuller Warren's office.

Shepherd and Irvin were shot while bein taken to Tavares near here for a hearing on two motions in connection with a re-trial.

Oxygen Poured Into Blood Stream

New Method May Lead To Workable Artificial Hearts

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8—(AP)—A method of pouring oxygen directly into the blood without killing the recipient—an achievement which may make it possible to build workable artificial hearts—was reported today by a Chicago surgeon.

It is done by mixing the oxygen with a chemical something like the new detergents widely used in the place of soap.

The method was developed by Dr. B. G. Lary of the University of Illinois medical school and St. Luke's Hospital, Chicago. He reported it in a paper for delivery to the American College of Surgeons.

Dogs were kept alive as much as an hour in tests of the method They showed no damaging after-effects, Dr. Lary said.

Oxygen normally is a gas. When mixed with fluids such as blood it forms bubbles, and bubbles are almost invariably fatal when they get into the circulation system. They can collect in a heart chamber and distend it, or they can get into capillaries of the brain and block blood flow to some vital nerve center which will stop functioning unless it gets its oxygen in very small portions.

Reduces Bubbles

Dr. Lary's mechanism reduces the bubbles to microscopic size as they are fed into the veins. This is done by putting a mixture of oxygen and detergent through a porcelain filter.

The detergent causes a "wetting" of the pores in the filter and this in turn makes the filter able to release oxygen bubbles much smaller than it would otherwise.

The finely divided oxygen particles then were able to hook themselves onto red blood cells without forming noticeable bubbles. The blood cells thus were oxygenized in much the same as they would be in the lungs.

Dr. Lary's dogs got no oxygen from their lungs. They were allowed to breathe only nitrogen during the tests.

Other experiments have attempted oxygen injection into the blood but with little luck in keeping their subjects alive.

FIRE CALL SENT IN ERROR

An erroneous fire alarm at 7:42 last night summoned firemen from Central and W. Center St. stations to the Willey Electric Co. at 666 Woodrow Ave. The alarm was turned in by a passerby who apparently saw the reflection of flames from the open draft door of a fuel oil furnace and thought the building was on fire.

The lowlands of Scotland contain 10 per cent of Scotland's area but 75 per cent of its population and most of its industry.

DEATHS and FUNERALS

George A. Prettyman

George A. Prettyman, 57, formerly of Marion, died Wednesday in his home in Toledo after a short illness.

Born in Marion, he had lived in Toledo since 1935. He was an overseas veteran of World War I, a member of the McCune Post, American Legion, in Toledo and of the Pilgrim Congregational Church. His occupation was buyer for Lee and Cady, wholesale grocers.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ulva Prettyman, his mother, Mrs. Minnie Prettyman, who lives in Toledo, and children, Jack R. Prettyman and Mrs. Deltha Gene Hanson, both of Toledo, and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 11 a.m. in the West Toledo Boyer, Feilbach and VanWormer Mortuary, 1110 Sylvania St. Burial will be at 3 p.m. at Nevada, O.

Parents of the widow are Mr. and Mrs. Emory Knapp of Upper Sandusky, formerly of Nevada.

Fleet Lemon

Fleet Lemon, 61, of Mt. Vernon, formerly of Morrow County, where he was born, died at 4:50 a.m. today in Memorial Hospital at Mt. Vernon after a long illness.

He had been employed as a carpenter.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Goldie Lemon, and children, Mrs Evelyn Boner of Fredericktown, Mrs. Eulalia Phillips, Mrs. Eleanor Pribble, and Clifford Lemon, all of Mt. Vernon, Foster Lemon and Fleet Lemon Jr., both of Mansfield, and James D. Lemon of Redono Beach, Calif., and a sister, Mrs. Florence Snyder of Mt. Gilead.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Williamsport Church. Rev. Donald Hart will officiate. Burial will be in Memorial Cemetery at Mansfield. Friends may call at the Meredith Funeral Home in Fredericktown until 1 p.m. Saturday.

Henry Jacobs

Henry Jacobs, 80, of near York Center died Wednesday at 3 a.m. at San Antonio Hospital in Kenton. A retired farmer, he was a former resident of Marion County.

Born Dec. 14, 1870, near Green Camp, he was the son of Conrad and Catherine Reichardt Jacobs, both natives of Germany.

His marriage to Gertrude Barnhart took place Dec. 25, 1900. Mrs. Jacobs died July 6, 1921. Mr. Jacobs is survived by one son, Carl L. of near York Center, with whom he made his home, one brother, W. C. Jacobs of Richwood, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Zoig and Mrs. Elizabeth Barnhart, both of Marion. Ten grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p.m. at the Reformed Church at Prospect with Rev. Horace L. Sheldon and Rev. Eugene Henzel officiating. Burial will follow in the Prospect Cemetery under the direction of the Winter Funeral Home at Raymond. Friends may call at the Carl L. Jacobs home near York Center until 10 a.m. Friday when the body will be removed to the church.

E. C. Conklin

GALION—Funeral services will be held Friday at Worthington for E. C. Conklin, 92, father of Mrs. Elva W. Tracht of near Galion. He died Tuesday afternoon in a Columbus hospital of injuries which resulted in a fall in the living room of his home last Thursday evening at which time he broke his leg.

Mr. Conklin is survived by his widow and nine children.

Mrs. Mora Strader

BUCYRUS—Mrs. Mora Strader, 77, died of a cerebral hemorrhage this morning at 2:20 a.m. in Bucyrus City Hospital, where she was admitted Oct. 27. She had been seriously ill three weeks.

She was born June 22, 1874, in Newark, N. J. Her husband, Jacob, died several years ago. She lived in Cleveland for several years, and since April made her home with a daughter, Mrs. Herbert Anderson of Bucyrus. She leaves another daughter, Mrs. Ruth Sanborn of Hinsdale, Ill., four grandchildren, and three great grandchildren.

The body will be sent tonight to Newark where funeral services and burial will be held Saturday afternoon.

George W. Amann

GALION—Funeral services for George W. Amann, 74, lifelong resident of this community, will be held Friday at 2 p.m., in the Snyder Funeral Home. Rev. Fr. F. X. Hermiller, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, will officiate. Burial will be made in Fairview Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mr. Amann died Tuesday at 12:55 p.m., at the home of Eric Creel of Galion where he had been for the past four weeks, and during his last illness.

Mr. Amann was born Feb. 22, 1877, on the old Amann homestead on the North State road. He was the son of the late George and Barbara Franks Amann. For a time he served on the Galion fire department, and also served two terms as a trustee of Polk Township. Recently he had been engaged in farming in North Bloomfield Township, Morrow County.

Surviving are two brothers: William Amann of Galion and John Franks of Lowell, Mich.; three sisters, Mrs. Henry Schuler and Miss Catherine Amann of Marion, and Mrs. Thomas Ryan of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Ettre Fleck

UPPER SANDUSKY — Funeral services for Mrs Ettre Fleck, 88, who died at the McVay Rest Home in Sycamore Tuesday, will be conducted at 9:30 a.m. Friday from the St. Joseph Catholic Church in Salem Township, Wyandot County. Truman be "checked and verified" by international inspectors.

This means that foreigners would have to move about freely over Russia, as well as over the United States and other countries both outside and inside the Iron Curtain. This is something the Kremlin has long rejected and is therefore seen as a great barrier in the way of Soviet acceptance of the whole disarmament proposal.

Mr. Truman asserted emphatically, however, that any disarmament system which works must be based on just such independently verified information. The "foolproof" system, he said, must also cover all types of weapons, be accepted by all nations having "substantial armed forces" and provide "safeguards that will insure the compliance of all nations."

The proposed three power system, the President made clear, has in his view all these qualifications and moreover would give the Soviets the same protection against violations "that it gives every other country." It is, Mr. Truman said, "a real down-to-earth approach, fair to all concerned."

Aerial-Applied Fertilizer Aids Crops, Marion Co. Farmer Says

Aerial applications of liquid fertilizer may be an easy way for Marion County farmers to boost corn yield experiments conducted near Prospect show.

John Jones Jr. of near Prospect carried out the experiments last summer on his farm near Prospect. He said in spite of dry weather during July and August, a single aerial application of three gallons of liquid fertilized an acre increased his corn yield by about 10 bushels an acre.

Mr. Jones compared his aerial-fertilized field with other fields on his farm. His land usually produces 80-90 bushels of corn an acre. Last summer most of his land produced 60 bushels. But the field on which the fertilizer was applied brought a 70-bushel yield despite bad corn weather.

A similar application was made at the Sam Lauer farm near Prospect. However, that application was made after the last good rainfall. No rain fell after the application and the yield there dropped to 40 bushels on land usually producing 90 bushels an acre.

Former Marion Man Killed In Korea Fighting

Word has been received by a brother here of the death in Korea Oct. 6 of Pvt Willard E. Bayles, 21, a former Marion resident. The information came in a telegram to Clifford R. Bayles of Fleetwood St. from the office of the adjutant general, U. S. Army. It stated that Pvt. Bayles was killed in action. He was serving with the 2nd Division, 3rd Battalion, 9th Infantry.

In service since April 10, he went overseas Aug. 28. Previously, he was an employe of the Bibler Burial Vault Co. here. He entered service at Lancaster. In Marion, he lived some time at the William G. Smith home at 602 Decatur street, and before that in the Marion County Children's Home. His birthdate was Feb. 13, 1930.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Caroline Parmer of Marion, one brother on Fleetwood St., and other brothers and sisters, Richard Leroy Bayles of Gebhardt St., Cleo Ray Bayles of the U. S. Air Force, stationed at Denver, Col., and Dorothy and Edna who live in Massillon and Lancaster. George Mooney of Fleetwood St. is an uncle.

It is expected that the body will be returned to Marion for funeral services.

The first charity hospital in the U. S. was founded in New Orleans in 1736, when a sailor, Jean Louis bequeathed 10,000 livres to that city for the construction of an institution to care for the sick.

It has been estimated that each year in the United States 12,000 women die from breast cancer, and that approximately 4 per cent of all female adults succumb to the disease.
